U. S. Soldiers Get Hurt In Saigon Blast

Time Bombs Used In Anti-American Violence Outbreak

SAIGON (U)—Time bombs today shattered the United States Information Service library, a military bus and a hotel in a sudden outburst of anti-Americanism in Saigon. Eighteen persons, including 13 U.S. soldiers, were injured.

The injured were Vietnamese or Chinese civilians. No one was killed.

Two of the soldiers were reported in serious condition. Eight of the Americans wounded were being evacuated immediately to the Clark Field military hospital in Manila, a U.S. spokesman said.

The soldiers belong to the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group here to train South Viet Nam's army. Their names were withheld.

The injured persons were in or near the bus and hotel. The bomb in the Information Service library exploded during the siesta hour when the building was empty.

It was the first case of anti-American attacks in Saigon in almost two years. There are some 2,000 Americans in the Viet Nam capital, including military and diplomatic personnel and construction company workers helping build two modern highways.

The hotel is in Cholon, Saigon's twin Chinese city. Four soldiers in the building were hurt.

The bus and hotel bombings occurred within several minutes of each other this morning. A witness a few yards from the bus said about a dozen soldiers and officers, coming from the Metropolitan Hotel, had just entered the vehicle when the blast occurred.

"They were seating themselves when the roar of an explosion tore past my face, blowing out the hotel windows," he said. "One man on the bus steps was blown across the sidewalk. The bomb was placed in the engine of the bus and blew the insides out."

After Moscow Party:

GI Admits Selling Secrets To Russia

NEW YORK (U)—A U. S. Army master sergeant has testified that he betrayed his country and turned informant for the Russians after a wild Moscow hotel party with two Russian girls.

A grin flickering across his angular features from time to time and speaking with a lisp, Sgt. Roy A. Rhodes, 40, testified in Brooklyn Federal District Court yesterday that he was paid for giving information to Soviet nationals in the United States.

Rhodes was testifying as a witness for the government in the espionage trial of Col. Rudolf L. Abel, 55, alleged master spy for the Soviet Union in the United States.

"The information you gave them—was it truthful or untruthful?" Rhodes was asked.

"Some of both, sir," replied the veteran of 15 years in uniform.

The Oklahoma-born soldier told Judge Mortimer W. Byers and a jury of nine men and three women that he had received the equivalent of $2,500 to $3,000 in rubles for giving the Russians information about himself, his earlier training in code work and about the habits of military and State Department personnel assigned to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

Rhodes said he arrived in Moscow June 22, 1951, and was put in charge of the embassy garage. He had been trained, he said, in code and cipher work in the Pentagon.

The sergeant traced his covert activities in Moscow to a drinking bout in December 1951. He said he was celebrating news that his wife and daughter had received permission from Soviet authorities to join him.

After a night's revelry with his two Russian mechanics and two Russian girls, he said, he woke up the next morning in bed with one of the girls in a strange room.

"Five or ten weeks later," he said, the same girl called him at the garage and he arranged to meet her.

He said they met two men in the street, one the girl's brother, the other, an English-speaking Russian introduced to him as Bob Day or Bob Smith.

Deaths Rise As Asia Flu Sweeps U. S.

Kindred Ailments Blamed For Many; Schools Hard Hit

By The Associated Press
Asian flu and its relatives have claimed the lives of 150 persons—and possibly many more—since the respiratory disease began sweeping across the country several months ago.

Fifty of the deaths, or roughly a third of the nationwide total, were listed in one state—Pennsylvania.

It is practically impossible to get exact figures on flu deaths. Reporting techniques differ among state health departments. Lengthy laboratory tests are required usually to confirm death from Asian flu.

The disease seems to hit hard elderly persons and retarded children. Both groups have lower resistance to diseases than healthy adults.

Many Schools Closed
Hundreds of schools have been closed as a result of absenteeism—student and teacher—attributed to respiratory illnesses. Some schools later reopened.

College and high school football games and dances have fallen victim to the illnesses.

Prisons and churches have felt the effect too.

For instance:

In Atlanta, Ga., a city judge authorized the release of inmates from city prison to prevent the spread of flu. In Scranton, Pa., visiting hours were canceled this week at the Lackawanna County Jail "to keep inmates healthy."

Church services were canceled in parts of the Lehigh Valley of Pennsylvania last Sunday because of fear of spreading the disease.

In Detroit, a judge caught up in his docket yesterday by sentencing six men from the hospital bed to which he had been confined by flu two weeks ago.

In Lansing, Mich., pregnant Mrs. Jerome Garcia, wife of a factory worker, was ill with the flu. So were her 14 children.

Tomorrow the Public Health Service's Advisory Committee on influenza will hold a meeting in Washington to discuss the situation.

A survey yesterday showed this breakdown on flu deaths and school closings:

Maryland—One death, 2-year-old Washington, D. C., boy died at Christmas Village, an institution for mentally retarded children at Laurel. 25 other Asian flu cases in state and 15,000 suspected. More than 1,000 students at Maryland University were treated as "flu-like cases." School absences in the state have been running as high as 50 per cent.

Riesel Blinding Witness Freed, Life In Danger
NEW YORK (U)—Joseph Carlinio, a conspirator in the Victor Riesel acid blinding case, has gone home to the East Side after a year and two months in custody. But although he's a free man—at least temporarily—he can hardly feel greatly relieved.

When Carlinio, 44, was freed yesterday in federal court as a reward for his testimony, his lawyer, Bernard Moldow, told the judge:

"He knows he is risking his life."

Fraud Charge Follows Vote In Guatemala

GUATEMALA (U)—The government party candidate today claimed election as president of Guatemala. His chief opponent claimed fraud.

The government-backed man, Miguel Ortiz Passarelli, of the Democratic Nationalist Movement, pledged he would carry on the anti-Communist policies of President Carlos Castillo Armas, who was assassinated July 26.

Ortiz, 49-year-old Supreme Court president, said he expected U. S. aid to continue "on the same level" as the more than $6 million dollars given Castillo after the revolt he led overthrew pro-Communist Jacobo Arbenz Guzman in June 1954.

Gen. Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes, 62-year-old rightist opponent, started charging fraud the day before the balloting Sunday. His supporters claimed yesterday that thousands of peasants were kept from voting while thousands of government workers voted twice.

Wintery weather hit northern Montana, with snow, gusty winds and temperatures in the low 20s. More than 2 inches of snow was reported at Cut Bank, which also was hit by wind gusts of 35 m.p.h. The blustery weather was expected to continue, with heavy snow falls in mountain sections.

The snow headed southward into Wyoming and parts of the Dakotas. The colder air was in prospect for most of the northern part of the country from the Pacific Northwest to the northern Great Lakes region.

Heavy rain soaked parts of the southern Plains and spread eastward across the lower Mississippi Valley during the night. Nearly 2 inches fell at San Antonio, Tex., in a six-hour period last night.

Country Doctor Takes Office As Haiti President
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (U)—A mild-mannered country doctor, Francois Duvalier, becomes the 34th president of strife-ridden Haiti today.

Brief and austere ceremonies were scheduled for the 48-year-old victor in elections Sept. 22. Duvalier asked that there be no display of pomp in view of Haiti's economic difficulties.

Duvalier takes over from a military junta headed by Brig. Gen. Antonio Kerekou which has ruled at bayonet point since June 14.

SHIOGAMA, Japan (U)—Twelve Japanese fishermen are believed to have perished early today when their 50-ton fishing boat, the Yavaki Maru, burned and sank.

Another fishing boat rescued 10 of the 23 crewmen. The rest apparently were trapped in the ship. The sea tragedy occurred 20 miles off the northern Pacific coast of Japan.

Poles Escape By Air Route

COPENHAGEN (U)—Two 20-year-old Poles landed a sports plane on the Danish Baltic island of Bornholm today and asked for political asylum.

The Poles said they took off from the Polish town of Slupsk and were pursued by unidentified planes which they evaded. They said anti-aircraft guns fired at them as they left the Polish coastline.

Train Wreck Toll Hits 89
CATALCA, Turkey (U)—Ten more passengers have died from injuries received Sunday night in a train collision near here, raising the death toll to 89.

Seventy-nine died in the wreckage. The surviving injured now total 112.

Most of the casualties—all Turks—were aboard a local diesel train bound for Istanbul from Edirne. The local smashed into the Simplon-Balkan Express, headed from Istanbul for Europe.

Police said they were holding the stationmasters of the two stations between which the wreck occurred to determine if either had been negligent.

British-U. S. Crucial Talks Set To Start

NEW YORK (U)—Hard-headed American and British diplomats brushed away the confetti today and pondered how much the visit of Queen Elizabeth II helped their task of improving U. S.-British cooperation.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrives here from London tomorrow, little more than 24 hours after Elizabeth and Prince Philip ended a triumphant 10-day stay in the United States and Canada.

He will start three days of crucial talks with President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd in Washington.

Their job is to find some way of countering the Soviet Union's new Sputnik diplomacy. Primarily, they seek a freer exchange of technical scientific knowledge and manpower to keep from being outdistanced by Russia in the nuclear missile race for supremacy. But they also want, and want badly, a joint means of keeping the oil-rich Middle East from falling completely under the Communist spell.

A major obstacle to greater American-British cooperation in the scientific field is the American Congress. U. S. atomic energy legislation is highly restrictive. Congress has been adamant against changing it, although President Eisenhower is anxious to share more scientific secrets with the British.

Cole Claims Reds Sincere In 'A' Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.), picked to be director general of the new International Atomic Energy Agency, says he is impressed with the "evident sincerity" of the Russians toward the agency.

And, he added in a news conference yesterday, the Russians are "entitled to positions of top responsibility" in IAEA.

Cole is retiring from Congress to become the first director general of the new agency which was established to advance international cooperation in development of peaceful atomic uses. Cole just returned from Vienna, where the agency had its organizational meeting. He takes over the IAEA post Dec. 1.

"If the Russians continue in their evident sincerity of purpose, I am sure the agency can work," he said. "I am frankly impressed with their evident sincerity."

The congressman said the most important job of the agency concerns fellowships and scholarships on the nuclear field.

Second in importance, he said, is the problem of public liability in the operation of reactors. That question, he said, might require a world congress to obtain uniform responsibility "since nuclear fallout knows no national boundaries."

Widow Reports Man Raped Her

BALTIMORE (AP)—A brunette widow told police she was forced into a car, bound, gagged and raped early today after leaving her home near here to mail a letter.

The woman said the attack occurred shortly after midnight in a parking lot near the Brooklyn Park Elementary School, in the city's south suburbs, three blocks from her home.

She said she was grabbed from behind as she approached, the dimly lighted mailbox and was pushed into a dark green sedan.

Czech Security Police Arrest 142 'Hooligans'

PRAGUE (INS)—Czech security police who last Thursday began a drive against "hooligans" with anti-state tendencies reported thus far to have arrested 142 persons.

Interior minister Rudolf Barak last night called the so-called hooligans "members of the de-throned classes, absenteeists and loafers."

Retired Army Officer Reports Home Looted

BALTIMORE (AP)—A retired Army officer reported the theft of $970 in cash and $15,000 in checks from his home in adjacent Towson today.

Walter G. Barthel told police the house was ransacked last week and when he was out of town. Police said a window on the first floor of the two-story dwelling had been left unlocked.

Eisenhower Plans Talk With Baruch

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower scheduled appointments in New York late today with Bernard Baruch and economist Arthur Burns, presumably for discussion of the sharp declines plaguing the stock market.

The White House announced that the appointments with Baruch, financier and veteran "advisor to presidents," and Burns, former head of Mr. Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisors, had been added to the Chief Executive's New York schedule.

Baltimore Lawyer Freed In Death Of Daughter, 7

MIAMI, Fla.—James T. Roberts, a Baltimore attorney, has been cleared of any suspicion in the death of his 7-year-old daughter, Judith Ann.

State Atty. Richard E. Gerstein announced last night that a lie detector test had cleared Roberts of the slaying, for which he was indicted. The indictment later was quashed.

"Results of the lie detector test have cleared James Roberts of any knowledge of the death or any part of the deal," Gerstein said.

Judith Ann was slain here more than three years ago while visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Rosenberg.

It also was announced that investigators now believe the child was slain between 10 and 10:30 p.m. instead of about 9 p.m., a point of possible significance in eventual solution of the crime.

The child's body was found in heavy undergrowth near Biscayne Bay, two miles from the grandparents' home, where the Roberts family was visiting.

Last month Roberts and his wife were among 14 persons questioned at Baltimore by Dade County investigators in a new effort to solve the slaying of the little girl.

The new probe was launched by Gerstein, who made reopening of the Judith Ann Roberts case a plank in his 1956 election platform.

"You might say we are starting from scratch and will talk to every person connected with the case all over again," Gerstein said Sept. 21. "The field of suspects has been greatly narrowed and I am convinced that a careful investigation will produce the killer."

State's Attorney Frank I. Newell of Baltimore cooperated with Gerstein's office in the investigation. Roberts, himself a lawyer, has been cleared of any suspicion in the death of his 7-year-old daughter, Judith Ann.

Boys Quizzed In Opening Of Switch Boxes

CHESTER, Pa.—Three teenagers were questioned by railroad detectives yesterday after railroad switch boxes were found open along the Baltimore and Ohio tracks over which Queen Elizabeth's train passed.

The boxes and other nearby railroad telephone boxes had been opened prior to the passage of the Queen's train, but nothing inside had been tampered with, it was reported.

The boxes were along the right-of-way east of a bridge in Boothwyn, about three miles south of here. The switches control trains on the main line and spurs.

The royal entourage passed through Philadelphia shortly before 2 a.m.

Names of the youths were not learned.

The meeting was part of a sweeping administration review of policy in advance of Eisenhower's conference tomorrow with British Prime Minister Macmillan.

Dulles planned to follow up the White House talk by meeting later today with visiting British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd to arrange an agenda for the high-level conference.

Eisenhower was reported thinking in terms of a North Atlantic scientific pool as a step to mobilize the free world's scientific know-how and resources.

Macmillan was understood to be aiming for a far more sweeping partnership under which British and American scientists would divide up scientific tasks in the modern weapons and missiles fields. In London, British informants

Buick Adds New Series In Luxury Price Class

FLINT, Mich. (INS)—A new line of high price cars for the "prestige" market and many styling and engineering changes feature the 1958 Buick that will be shown publicly next Tuesday, Oct. 29.

The new series is called the "Limited" and is designed to compete with Cadillac, Chrysler and Lincoln in the luxury car field. It is eight inches longer than Buick's Roadmaster and is available in two and four-door hardtops and convertible models.

As the first of General Motors' "golden anniversary" cars to go on sale, the 1958 Buick is fittingly styled for the occasion. Dual headlights set off a jewel-like grille that extends across the entire front of the car. The grille is made up of 160 1/2-inch squares set in four rows.

Engineering improvements are highlighted by the optional "air-poise" suspension, "which literally floats the car on four columns of air." The air-suspension installation is available on all series.

There is a new flight-pitch dynaflow transmission with three turbines instead of two. The

Ministerial Association Elects Rev. William R. Synder President

The Cumberland Ministerial Association yesterday elected of St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran Church, president of the group. The vote was held at the luncheon meeting at Central YMCA.

Rev. E. Ellwood Carey, pastor of Barton Presbyterian Church, was elected vice president, and Rev. Wayne J. Eberly, pastor of Living Stone Church of the Brethren, secretary-treasurer.

The ministerium elected Rev. Maurice Robertson, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Cumberland, and Rev. Jacob H. Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church, to the executive council.

Principal speaker at yesterday's meeting was Rev. John B. Zinn, pastor of St. Matthew's United Church of Christ at Bowling Green.

Rev. Zinn, speaking on "The United Church of Christ," outlined the background of the United General Synod last June in Cleveland in which the Evangelical and Reformed Church and the Congregational Christian Churches united to form the new denomination.

He pointed out that the merger was unique in American church history, in that it brought together two denominations with similar theology but with dissimilar church government systems.

Rev. Zinn said the merger places the United Church of Christ, with two million members, sixth in size among Protestant bodies in the United States.

Devotions at yesterday's meeting were conducted by B. U. Smith, YMCA general secretary, on the theme, "The Body, The Temple of the Living God."

Two new members were introduced. They are Rev. Carlton Harris, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church, and Rev. Robert Nimmon, pastor of Grace Methodist.

James Fortner, YMCA athletic director, spoke on the Sunday school basketball league, and discussed the possibility of setting up an athletic program for the ministers.

The ministerium announced that its combined Reformation Day service will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, November 3, at First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Dr. Charles E. Berger, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church in Chevy Chase, will speak on "Luther's Rediscovery of the Gospel."

Clergymen are invited to attend in ecclesiastical vestments.

The ministerium voted a $100 donation yesterday to County United Fund.

Speaker at next month's meeting of the Ministerial Association will be Rev. Russell Fink, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, who will discuss the Lutheran World Federation meeting held recently in Minneapolis, Minn.

Police Oppose Naming Temporary Sergeant

Three policemen last night were named to oppose the temporary appointment of Walter P. Crabtree who was assigned as a temporary desk sergeant, effective October 15.

The group was named at a meeting of the Police and Firemen's Welfare Association.

Committee members who contacted the association's attorney, Earl E. Manges, last night are Officers William Valentine, Charles Snider and Kenneth Morrissey.

It was pointed out at the meeting that after a number of complaints had been received on the appointment, Manges suggested calling the special meeting to learn the sentiments of the members of the police force.

According to the Civil Service laws, it is mandatory that Officer Crabtree retire at the age of 65 which was October 14. He was appointed to the temporary position by the Mayor and Council yesterday. If police and firemen approve entering Social Security at a forthcoming election, Crabtree would become eligible for benefits.

One spokesman said the association "must live up to the Civil Service law and have it enforced." He said that if one part of the law is not enforced the entire law can be "whittled away."

Another association member said if the law now in effect is not upheld there is little protection for the future.

OUR COUNTRY
The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—America.

A Vital Lesson

IN THE SPUTTERING wake of "Sputnik," the Russian moon, many have said that the Soviet Union's achievement could prove a blessing in disguise for America. Some declare this shows forcefully how laggard is our training of scientists and engineers, not to mention others. Walter Lippman sees it as evidence of the damage done by a curious double standard applied in the United States. He believes we demand the best for ourselves as individuals, yet actually starve our schools and other vital public institutions. Those who think "Sputnik" may be a blessing hope that it will shock us into facing our shortcomings, and shake us out of unending smugness and complacency over our alleged massive superiority as a people.

NO QUESTION of it, most Americans imagine that nearly everything American is the best, whatever the field of endeavor. Our very great achievements in many realms are pyramided upon a base of rich material resources and set within a broad, fortunate climate of freedom. Too often we tend to forget how much we owe to the "luck of the draw" that gave us these riches and the liberty to develop them as we wished. We have no monopoly upon scientific genius, or any other kind, for that matter. There is no point here in attempting to catalogue the accomplishments of other peoples in various technical fields. They are legion. A good deal that we are proud of we have borrowed in the first instance.

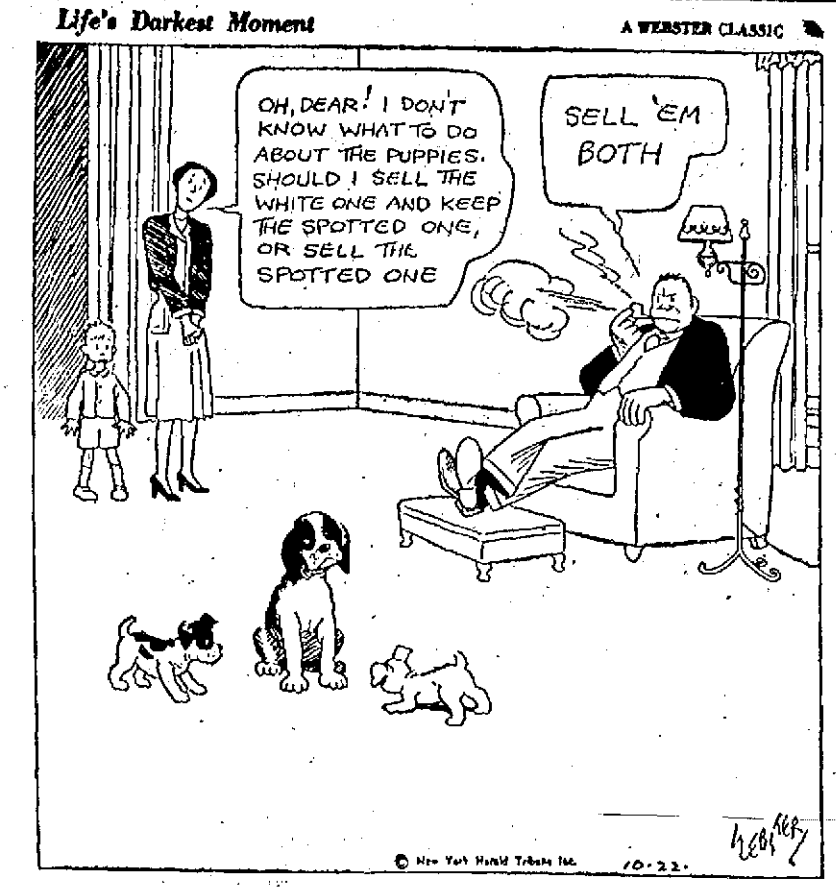

WE WILL NOT WIN the race for supremacy in science, for military survival in competition with hostile communism. If we do not acknowledge that we do not enjoy an inherited superiority over others. We can hold our own or win out in the great human competition only as we approach our tasks with humility, with full recognition of the very substantial and often surpassing talents of others. There are many wonderful advantages in being an American. But being born great is not one of them. Just like anybody else on earth, we have to earn greatness and not smugly assume we have it. If we do not humbly labor for it, it will slip away and pass to others. That, perhaps, is the overriding lesson of "Sputnik."

Failures Hidden

IN WORLD WAR II, there were often amazingly long periods without report of major activity by the Russians on their broad front against the invading Germans. This was true long after the tide had turned and the Germans were being pushed out of the Soviet Union. The silence was misleading. It did not mean that the Russians were not trying. It meant that they were trying and failing. But they did not tell the world what was going on until they successfully mounted a fresh offensive. This is something to keep in mind in the age of Sputnik the First. Every time we dispatch a test rocket, we let everyone know whether it succeeds or fails. At this critical time, each failure seems greatly magnified. And we keep on having failures, despite the important success with an intermediate missile sent aloft in Florida not long ago. But we must remember that, as in World War II, Russia lets us hear only of its successes. The great curtain of secrecy it puts such store by keeps us from knowing of the failures. And no doubt they are very, very frequent.

France's Dream

IF A MAN WANTED to lay a pretty good wager, he might go two to one that on that future day when some man-made rocket lands on the moon, the French will be without a government. Science goes on exploring, pushing back the frontiers, even to outer space. Industry applies science's findings to produce new miracles and change the look of civilization. Through it all the French political mind goes on as before, splitting hairs, balking at the compromises which are the heart of effective politics, periodically bringing the house down because someone doesn't like the way a nail is placed. But when the moon landing is made, the French may perk up. One imagines they might like to organize the first mass exodus by rocket, hopeful that on the moon they would at last be free of earth and all its trials.

Phyllis Battelle But Why Pity That Poor Little Queen?

NEW YORK — Well, the final results on the battle royale vs. realism are in, and the other side won.

Elizabeth won over the male cynics, and Philip slaughtered the female reserve. As the late Dr. Kinsey would have said, it figures.

It was sympathy that really put them over at the final analysis—not charm or a love of story-book legends.

The American public could have been bored by Elizabeth's porcelain skin and fabulous clothes, and it could most certainly have been unimpressed by Prince Philip's lanky frame and ready smile—but it just couldn't help feeling sorry for those poor kids.

HOW MANY times during this tour was the remark made "How can she go through it, day after day—such a little thing?"

And beside, how many hearts was the Prince's rather stiff smile interpreted as a sign of frustration? "Boy, he'd like to speak his mind just once. If he could only get away from the protocol . . . If they'd only give him a chance!"

IN EVEN THE most blasé circles, there was much speculation about what the Buckingham duet discussed upon retiring to their satin sheets of a tour evening.

It was generally believed by the blasé that the couple possibly used strong language regarding the strains of the day, or at least wound up the bedtime contemplations with self-pitying sighs of exhaustion and a whispered comment to the effect of "how did we get into this?"

I THINK IT'S very nice of us Americans to suffer so for the royal twosome. It shows that we are still wholesome and young and have a capacity to weep over little things that harder and less fortunate people would gibe at.

But I think, in this case, we were happily deluded. In imagining Elizabeth a poor little rich girl, and Philip a witty frustrated playboy, we only pleased our own vanities and lifted our own egos.

I believe that Elizabeth was born to be a Queen and loves it. Like George Jessel on a Saturday night, she would be miserable indeed not to have state dinners and full dress parades to bolster her morale and remind her that she means something, even if only as feminine figurehead for a nation.

FROM WHAT I have overheard of Philip's conversations, he would be hard put to get a laugh. If he were not husband of a queen. Despite the way Americans look at it, I judge his "strained" smile is not of frustration at all but rather a sincere effort to impress these his meeting to the fullest extent of his facial muscular ability.

As for the retiring hour, I believe the couple let down their guard, but not necessarily their hair. Liz remarks, "It was a lovely day, wasn't it? Three nice parades. Did you have a good time, dear?" Phil replies, "awfully." That is that.

They live in a world Americans never made. It is fun visualizing that they want to run away from it all, like Audrey Hepburn would do, in something by Ernst Lubitch. But it ain't necessarily so.

Peter Edson Numbers On Relief Paradox To Prosperity

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—One great paradox of American life today is that nearly five million people are receiving public assistance from state and federal governments. The total cost to the taxpayers is around three billion dollars a year.

This public expenditure for the relief of poverty is made in spite of the fact that there is now record prosperity. There are 67 million people employed and another 6.7 million are drawing Old Age and Survivors Insurance under Social Security.

Accounting for this situation is a complicated story.

Over 2.5 million of the people now "on relief" are getting what's known as Old Age Assistance—OAA. Their average age is 75. Their problem is created by the simple fact that more people are living longer. Many need costly medical care.

WHEN the social security system was set up 20 years ago, it covered only industrial workers. Farmers, the self-employed and other groups weren't covered until Congress passed amendments to the Social Security Act in 1934.

Older workers in these groups, previously uncovered, now have to depend on public assistance if they've no other income.

Government Old Age and Survivors Insurance payments—OASI—are based on past employment and earnings. People paid low wages get low benefits when they retire.

These OASI payments may not be enough to keep them alive. To make up the difference they go on OAA. There are nearly 600,000 people now on these rolls, getting supplementary public assistance. Public Assistance, or PA, is based on the need of the individual. OASI payments are not based on need.

The poorer the state, the heavier its PA case load.

ADC—Aid to Dependent Children—accounts for 600,000 more cases on the public assistance rolls. This aid is given for children under 18, living with a close relative who is in need. Again, the highest incidence is in the poorer states.

The ADC case load has been changing recently due to OASI amendments. Now, when an insured worker dies, the surviving spouse gets immediate, additional aid for dependent children. There were 713,000 of these cases last year.

AID TO BLIND—AB—accounts for another 105,000 of the people receiving public assistance today. Aid for the Permanently and Totally Disabled—APT—accounts for 244,000 more.

If a working parent is disabled, private family resources may be exhausted rapidly and public assistance becomes necessary for both adults and dependent children.

Still further public assistance becomes necessary when there is a family break-up through divorce, desertion, illegitimacy or abandonment. National statistics on such cases still aren't very good. And no one has yet been able to devise a social security insurance system to cover them.

General Assistance—GA in so-

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — You get to be a Manhattan hillbilly and you make mistakes. You mention the New York Coliseum as having the largest exhibition room in the world with an unsupported ceiling and the mail comes in, but most of it is kind and warm-hearted.

Like C. W. McKay's letter out of Elyria, Ohio, pointing out that the convention hall in Atlantic City, N. J., a room "large enough to hold Madison Square Garden and have room left over."

Sorry, boys. This kind of stumble comes from not getting around enough.

THERE'S A letter from a greyhound, inviting you to dinner. You think back across enough time and remember some fairly odd invitations to dinner, but never one from greyhound.

This is a TV greyhound called Steverino, who lives at 331 West 18th Street in New York, and he says that as fellow guests there will be a lamb, a wombat, a Great Dane, a Persian kitten, a burro, a monkey, a raccoon, a pig, a kangaroo and a llama and I'd better send a wire to accept or regret because the monkey is on the telephone all the time. I might go if I can bring a Puli, a wild squirrel and a king snake. Which reminds me of the Southern young lady who heard someone mention a wombat and said: "Ah thought all bats were wom."

IF YOU HAVE been flying in to New York on clear afternoons and wondered what that streak of gold is, it's Fifth Avenue, all gilded up and gussied up for its 50th anniversary. Rather, the 50th anniversary of the Fifth Avenue Association, which turned polish and gold paint on everything from street lamps to waste cans. If you have never seen a golden trash can or basket, walk over to Fifth. It's real nice.

While talking to an eminent Matador in New York the other day, he told of the time Manolete received two bull's ears and the tall one triumphant afternoon in the ring and he and his manager were swollen with pride, a rare occasion. But even rarer, a thing that happens almost only once a year, is for the crowd to award a brilliant matador the bull's head—right front one.

Carlos Aruza, the Mexican magician in the ring, had been awarded the hoof, later, after Manolete had finished his kills.

In the hotel lobby Manolete's manager met Aruza's manager and smugly asked: "And what did your man get?"

"Hobo patina," said Aruza's boy, shrugging as though nothing

Low Heels For Cow Pokes

WASHINGTON — Way out West where men are men hardly anybody wears high heels any more except ladies.

This is a revolutionary development, and I have no doubt that eventually the facts about high heels for cowpokes being passe will trickle into TV where actors this year have been tetering painfully in one half-hour program after another on heels two inches tall. They have been suffering in vain.

THIS NEWS reaches me in a round-about way. A few days ago I did a little story about ladies complaining that this season their high heels were too doggone high and so narrow that they kept breaking off, causing them to limp to the nearest shoemaker.

Their big complaint was that a pair of tall, spindly heels to replace the smashed ones cost a minimum of $5. I also mentioned my own problem once trying to walk downstairs in a pair of high-heeled boots at Tucson, Ariz. I kept feeling like I was about to fall on my face.

COMES NOW from Edward M. Pooley, editor of the El Paso, Tex., Herald-Post, news of the great revolution in the cow country. Ed was looking at his own newspaper a few days back when he came to an advertisement of the New York Life Insurance Company showing some well-insured Texans talking about their policies. There was something wrong with that ad. Ed eventually spotted it. These Texans all were wearing high-heeled boots.

Editor Pooley hadn't seen a pair of high-soaring boots in the hide for months. So he did a little investigating and wrote a story, from which I quote.

"FOR THE LAST several years a revolution has been sweeping the cow country. It has vitally destroyed an ancient institution. The loser has been the high heels of cowboy boots. Look around and notice how many you don't see any more.

"Today's heels are low. Some are rubber. They all look like cowboy boots from the front, however. The narrow toe hasn't changed. Often it still points up. Some brands are made so the toes will stick up. Ordinarily they wouldn't with low heels."

Ed interviewed Dace Myres, the El Paso bootmaker, who said highheeled boots originally were intended to give a cowboy something to dig into the ground when roping a wild steer.

"The low heels won't give young ranchers the anchorage their fathers had," said Dace. "High heels today are bought by very few people, usually old cowboys. The low ones have grabbed

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — America today is full of glamorous grandmothers, but Marlene Dietrich, one of the most beautiful, probably has the fewest beauty secrets.

"I wash my face with soap," she admitted cheerfully, "and I don't own a jar of skin cream. Perhaps I should, but I just can't be bothered. I keep only one bottle of perfume in my house — if I have that."

She can enter a room full of celebrities, and all heads will snap her way. Whatever she had, she still has.

Glamor is her trade mark, but never has impressed her very much.

MARLENE FEELS that any housewife can be glamorous but remarked: "I don't know why she would want to. With me it happens to be a profession."

"What defeats most women who seek to be glamorous? In America I would say it is insecurity in their own judgment," she said.

Miss Dietrich says she has never had a pattern in life and doesn't yearn for one. She usually makes one picture a year now, does four weeks in Las Vegas, has no ambitions to storm the battlements of television.

"Why should I?" she asked. "I am not trying to prove anything."

She lives simply. When she isn't working, she likes to attend concerts and Broadway openings. The rest of the time she spends reading — two to three books a week — and caring for her three young grandchildren.

"There is so much you want to do for children, and so very little you actually can do," she said. "You can watch their health and equip them with some basic ideas you believe in. You can refrain from giving them candy."

"As for the rest of it, they'll do what they want to anyway."

THE THINGS THAT bore her are stupidity, superficiality and people who don't know their job.

The things that please her most are imagination, efficiency and people who are good at what they do, no matter what they are doing.

She often eats only one real meal a day, doesn't care particularly what it is.

She sometimes misses the war years, when she traveled thousands of miles entertaining troops.

"There was a great aim to life then, and I believed in that aim," she said. "You didn't have to think what to do next. It was there to be done."

Asked if she could sum up her philosophy in a sentence, Marlene shrugged wryly with her mouth, then said: "Do your duty—but do it every day."

That has been the actual glamor of her life-duty.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — Queen Elizabeth II performed an uncanny feat of magic the other evening. In one sentence, she metamorphosed the Washington press corps. We were beginning to feel put upon for having to work harder as a result of her visit, but the minute she voiced sympathy for us a stopped feeling sorry for ourselves and began feeling sorry for her.

There hasn't been such a lightning transformation since Sherman Adams was turned into a Prince Charming. One instant we were all telling each other we couldn't understand how flesh and blood could stand as much as we were standing. The next moment, we were agreeing we ought to be ashamed of complaining because our drudgeries were as nothing compared to those of the lady in blue.

THIS PRESTO CHANGE-O took place at the press reception for her Majesty and Prince Philip in the Statler Hotel. The couple shook the work-calloused hands of the working press, and about a thousand others who gained admission in ways I do not care to fathom. Then the Queen advanced to a dais where, after suitable introductions, although most knew who she was by now, she made a gracious speech.

She said she was well aware that the visit had given us a lot of extra work. This produced such a reaction that we took vows never to complain of our lot again, at least until she and her consort can get some rest too.

I was very glad I went to the press reception because it enabled me to get a close-up view of Jim Hagerity. The President's press secretary looked as beatific as if he'd never heard of Little Rock nor the sputnik. The occasion also gave me the opportunity to behold colleagues I hadn't seen for days. Some looked so impressive I wondered why they didn't have their clothes pressed oftener.

I have a suspicion attempted skulduggery was foiled by Scotland Yard. Just before the entourage moved from the receiving line to the head table I saw her Majesty's men walk up and down scrutinizing the place cards. They shook their heads and made some rapid switches. I have a feeling that a number of persons who staked out good seats for themselves were surprised to find themselves in the outfield.

A number of little things occurred that appealed to my child mind. For instance, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, of Canada, looked upon Mary Haworth, president of the American Newspaper Women's Club, and gave the lady a long wink. I wonder if the Prime Minister is aware that Miss Haworth is professionally engaged in advising the love-lorn?

PAUL WOOLTON, our perpetual press master of ceremonies, took out his pen to jot down a few notes for himself. In the midst of this chore, applause for the Queen broke out. The eminent Mr. Woolton leaped from his seat next to her majesty, stuck his pen in his mouth, and joined in the clapping. If he'd rehearsed this for weeks he couldn't have provided a more homey touch.

One of our newspaperwomen, who is by way of being a character, told Prince Philip it was nice to see him again after six years. Instead of puzzling over that one, the Prince gave her a bland look and said: "You haven't changed a bit."

And y'gosh, she hasn't. Too bad!

A newspaperman informed Philip he used to work in London. The Prince said: "I hope it didn't hurt you." The newspaperman moved on, looking rather dazed. When I left him hours later, he was still trying to puzzle it out.

I feel that we, in the newspaper business, should be glad the Queen married Philip. He makes royal visits so much more interesting.

Why The Moon?

SOME MUCH needed and sobering words have come from Sir Harold Spencer Jones, former astronomer royal of Great Britain.

Writing in New Scientist, Sir Harold says that despite Russia's success with a satellite it will be generations before man can reach the moon.

In his opinion, space travel in manned vehicles to other planets of the solar system never will be possible.

Without attempting to pass on the validity of this noted scientist's conclusions, it is worth noting that this is a dash of cold water on some of the wild speculations that have been made as a result of Sputnik.

It is high time that we took some new, sharp bearings on where we are headed, what we hope to attain, in science.

Suppose we do reach the moon. Suppose we are able to launch a space ship to Venus or Mars. What do we hope to accomplish there? To what end? What is the ultimate purpose?

These are the really important questions. Given man's demonstrated ingenuity, we probably can do all manner of tricks with science. But what we really need to do is examine our motives for such behavior.

For almost 200 years now, the human race has been beguiled by science. Its accomplishments have surpassed the wildest guesses of the soothsayers of old. We should be grateful for its wonders, but this gratitude should not blind us to the necessity for moral decisions. And these are outside the realm of science.

Senator Byrd says there could be six billion dollars available for government tax and debt reduction next year. Almost everybody is ready and willing to have the possibility changed to "will be."

Junior Red Cross Meeting Set For Saturday

A meeting will be held Saturday morning at the local Post Office with a countywide program for the Junior Red Cross being featured.

Frank O'Connor, field representative from the Red Cross Eastern Area office at Alexandria, Va., will speak briefly on the scope of Junior Red Cross activities during the meeting which will be held from 10 a. m. until 11:30 a. m.

Dr. Lillian C. Compton, past president of Frostburg State Teachers College, will also give a talk. Miss Peggy Porter, of Fort Hill High School and Miss Rebecca Haines, of Allegany High School, who attended a Junior RC conference this summer at Hood College, will give reports.

Miss Elizabeth Flake, committee chairman, said yesterday that principals and a teacher representative from public and parochial schools throughout the county have been extended invitations.

A representative of each high school student body has been asked to attend.

Co-chairmen of the meeting are Miss Flake, supervisor of elementary education of county public schools, and Mrs. John Robb, who are in charge of Junior RC work.

A "coffee hour" will be held in conjunction with the meeting, and a short color film, "We Serve," showing the activities of a Junior RC program in a Chicago school will be viewed.

A display of pictures by pupils of European countries and a scrapbook "War In Norway," compiled at a school in that country, will be on exhibit. They were loaned to the local chapter by

Red Cross Group Changes Meeting

The second in a series of first aid instructions for persons joining the Red Cross Motor Service will be held Thursday at 10 a. m. in the Red Cross offices at the Post Office.

The class which opened last Thursday was held from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. After the first meeting it was decided to change the time. Some 10 hours of instruction are being given by Dr. Elizabeth Brinker.

Instructions in mechanics and traffic rules and regulations are to be given in conjunction with the first aid course, according to Mrs. Haines Cessna, chairman of the project.

Wall Street Hears...

NEW YORK — (INS) — Wall Street Hears: More margin calls by brokers as result of Monday's plunge. Rise in United Whelan Corp. dividend rate seen likely early next year. Latest expansion of short position, usually considered a bullish factor, is hardly that in the present bearish atmosphere. Majority opinion in street is that unless some dramatically bullish news develops the trend is toward lower prices.

For the second half of the year to date, commercial loans at New York and Chicago banks showed a decline of $388 million whereas a year ago they had shown an advance of 338 million.

If you remove from Freeport Sulphur's price a "conservative" valuation of $25 per share for its oil and gas reserves, Reynolds & Co. points out, it would mean that the company's sulphur properties, whose earning power is about $4 per share under present circumstances, and its nickel-cobalt venture, whose projected earning power is upward of $3 per share, would be priced at $4, or about 7.7 times combined earnings potential.

Some "attractive" non-callable preferred — American Can, Am. Smelting, Am. Sugar, Bethlehem, Corn Products, International Harvester, National Biscuit and U.S. Steel, all yielding between 4 1/2 and 5 1/2 per cent.

Market comment — Herbert Weisman of L. F. Rothschild & Co. "We had (yesterday) the fruition of the fear psychosis which has gripped the market for weeks. There is a complete defeatist viewpoint...no attempt to try to distinguish between stocks, between values. The market is ahead of whatever grief may be in store in the economy."

Prison Inmates Bring Happiness To Greek Orphan

ATHENS — (INS) — They broke the news gently to Anastasia Kollia, an eight-year-old Greek war orphan, that the foster-parents who had sent her money, food and clothes during the past year were the inmates of the Minnesota State Reformatory for Men.

They did it themselves in their monthly letter to the barefoot blonde little girl who lives in Mandra, a village outside Athens, with her widowed mother, three sisters and a brother.

They began by telling her about the myth of Achilles and how his mother had dipped him in the river Styx to make him invulnerable—all except the heel she held him by.

Then they explained that even these days strong men have their weak and vulnerable points—and that is why we are in prison here, in the United States," they wrote.

For a whole year Anastasia had believed the $15 she received monthly in food, clothes and cash, through the Foster Parents Plan for War Children, Inc., came from a men's club in St. Cloud, Minn.

The $46.00 they sent her last Christmas was a godsend to Anastasia and her mother who had never seen so much money in their lives.

Neither of them realized that this bonanza, like the $13 per month, had been painstakingly raised among the 900 inmates of the St. Cloud reformatory from the little they are allowed to earn for cigarettes and candy.

Career Corner

BY JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK — (INS) — The old "Patience and fortitude" motto is most important when starting off on a new career.

And the fortitude may well be of the intestinal type when it comes to giving a job a trial.

You may find yourself working for someone you don't like, but if the job is worth holding onto, you may either warm up to your boss or get promoted out of his range.

The people may be just dandy, but the job, you feel, is beneath your capabilities and forces you to deal with minute details that make you as important as a miniature mouse.

Just keep in mind that starting at the bottom is the best way not only for your character but also because with a little diligence on your part it is the best way to learn about the business you want to enter, enabling you to handle bigger jobs later.

Many an important woman has started out as a switchboard operator, clerk or secretary. And the number of former office boys heading large business firms is part of the American legend.

The important thing is to give yourself a fair chance to survey the possibilities of your position—and that means several months, not weeks.

Business Briefs...

NEW YORK — (INS) — Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. reported today higher earnings despite lower sales in the three months ended Sept. 30. Sales amounted to $145,933,000, a drop of about $2,000,000, but earnings were $7,885,000, or $1.92 a share, compared with $7,284,000, or $1.77 a share, in the same period of 1956.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Net earnings of Pennsylvania Railroad amounted to $3,012,116 in September, compared with $4,003,013 in the same month last year. Gross revenue in the month expanded 1.9 per cent to $84,262,997. For the first nine months earnings of $19,581,366 are 37 per cent below the corresponding period of 1956.

NEW YORK — (INS) — The Institute of Life Insurance announced today September purchases of life insurance amounted to $4,602,000,000, ten per cent above the volume a year ago and the largest September total on record. For the first nine months sales amounted to $47,500,000,000, 23 per cent higher than a year ago.

Woman Confused Over Directions To Capitol

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — An out-of-state visitor asked several persons for directions to the capitol. She was sent to a theater, a newspaper and a restaurant, all of which had the word capitol in their names. She finally located the building known locally as the Statehouse since 1694.

Chamber Opens Business Analysis Clinic Here

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce has arranged a program by Howard J. Wischaup, a native of Indiana, starting today. He is a business analyst. The program began at the Maryland Theater from 8 a. m. to 6:30 a. m. and will continue through Thursday. Wischaup also will speak before the Rotary Club, Optimist Club, the Men's Club of Centre Street Methodist Church and student assemblies at Allegany and Fort Hill high schools.

With a wealth of knowledge acquired in this country and abroad, he will make it a point to convince local residents and merchants that a little courtesy goes a long way in everyday life.

Wischaup said he is the first house-to-house man who inquired, "Where do you buy and why?" Such a survey was carried on for retail merchants in at least 87 American cities as well as cities abroad.

He has had experience in newspaper advertising, having worked for the Banner in his home town, Bluffton, Ind. Mr. Wischaup, being retired and has decided to continue his work.

From here he will leave for Martinsburg, W. Va., and Warrenton, Ore. Last week he was in Allentown, Pa. Commenting on the employers, workers and professional residents here are one appearance of "main street" in special people.

Former Local Car Salesman Gets Suspended Sentence

Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday afternoon in Circuit Court gave William Marshall Stephen, a former local auto salesman, a suspended sentence in the House of Correction on two charges. He now resides in Washington. Stephen entered guilty pleas to charges of embezzling $814.70 from Speer's Garage and also forging a promissory note with intent to defraud George Louis Speer and Frank W. Speer, trading as Speer's Garage. Two charges of false pretense in cashing $10 in worthless checks at local grocery stores were dismissed by the state. Stephen received a three-year suspended sentence on the embezzlement and a two-year suspended sentence for forgery. In both cases, he stipulated that Stephen must maintain good behavior, abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages, report to the Division of Parole and Probation and make restitution of the of guilty to carnal knowledge. He was represented by attorney Lesie J. Clark was his attorney. Judge Harris handed down an 18-month suspended sentence in the House of Correction to Donald P. ## Airport Business At Baltimore Has Gone Over 1956

BALTIMORE (AP) — Passenger and freight business at Friendship Airport so far this year are way ahead of 1956, the Baltimore Department of Aviation reported today.

The number of passengers using the city airport located in Anne Arundel County is up 18 per cent compared with the first nine months of last year and freight shipments are 41 per cent higher.

The terminal has logged 147,291 passengers arriving and 164,540 leaving for a total of 311,831. The total in the same period last year was 236,494.

Freight weighing 9,430,318 pounds has been handled at the seven-year-old airport. The total was 4,847,891 through September of last year.

Resources Board States Opposition To Park Plan

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — The Board of Natural Resources yesterday officially reaffirmed its stand in opposition to proposed creation of a national historical park along the old Chesapeake and Ohio Canal from Washington to Cumberland.

The five members of the board present at today's meeting unanimously adopted a statement listing seven objections to the proposal and making four alternate recommendations.

A bill introduced in Congress by Sen. Beall (R-Md.) proposes to maintain the canal area as a historical park and authorize construction of a 20-mile parkway from Paw Paw, W. Va., to Woodmont, Md.

The bill ran into opposition on economic and sporting grounds at a Congressional hearing but passed.

The National Park Service proposed to establish the park along the old canal and the Maryland shore of the Potomac River from Great Falls to Cumberland, a distance of 165 miles.

The park will require about 10,000 acres of land and the parkway about 2,000 acres in addition to the 4,756 acres already under federal ownership between Great Falls and Cumberland.

The canal property, acquired by the federal government from the B&O Railroad Co. for $2,000,000 in 1938, touches the Potomac for 106 miles, where it departs from the river, about 3,000 acres of land remain in private ownership between the canal and the river.

The Board of Natural Resources, in a statement to be sent to members of Congress and the Department of the Interior, claimed such a park would be "expensive to develop, and maintain as well as difficult to administer."

The statement said the park proposal would require Maryland "to surrender to federal control nearly all of the northern shore and the bed of the Potomac River from Great Falls to Cumberland."

"The southern boundary of Maryland from Great Falls to Cumberland will be moved, for all practical purposes (to north of the federal land) and Maryland citizens would have access to the river 'only on the sufferance of the federal government,'" the statement said.

Seen As Curtain
"The proposed park," it continued, "would constitute a curtain which would prohibit the normal development of homes, industries and communications along the northern shore of the Potomac. . . (it) would prohibit hunting on about 17,000 acres of the finest and most productive game land in Maryland and would furnish no form of recreation which does not now exist in this area."

The board said the State of Maryland is able to develop selected areas to be used as campsites, picnic areas and public hunting and fishing grounds along the north shore of the Potomac and "is capable of preserving the scenic and historic values of the Potomac River and the C & O Canal."

The natural resources group recommended that Maryland cooperate with the Department of the Interior in the complete development of the Harpers Ferry National Historical Park and that Maryland support and encourage federal development of recreational facilities along the canal from Washington to Great Falls.

Other Park Areas
But it recommended that all remaining sections of the canal property "be transferred to the State of Maryland and incorporated ed the Senate in the final days of the session. It will be considered by the House when Congress reconvenes.

The board also suggested that the Department of the Interior, the city of Cumberland and the state cooperate in establishing a park area as a national historical transportation monument in or near Cumberland where the canal, B & O Railroad and the National Pike join.

Joseph F. Kaylor, director of the State Department of Forests and Parks, and Lester N. Towner of Towson were most outspoken among board members in opposition to the park proposal.

Kaylor said the board would be "selling out this generation and future generations of Marylanders" if it did not oppose the plan, and Towner said to accept the plan would be equal "to deeding the Potomac River to Virginia and West Virginia."

Others voting to adopt the board's statement were Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, director of the department of research and education; Dr. Joseph T. Singewald, director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources; and John P. Tawes, chairman of the Tidewater Fisheries Commission.

Plans were once proposed for a parkway the length of the canal, but such plans were not included in the present park proposal.

In other business, Tawes referred to Kaylor's department proposal from the State Planning Commission that a study be made and a policy formulated for state acquisition of land for watershed protection. Kaylor said his department, working with the other departments comprising the board, will try to have a report ready in time for the 1958 meeting of the Legislature.

Officerless Town Just Hides From Trouble

NOBLE, Okla. (AP) — Harold Mauldin, a member of the town board here, gave a visitor a tour of Noble and explained the town does not have a police officer.

"What happens when you see a driver coming down the highway here 60 miles an hour?" the visitor asked.

Mauldin replied: "You run like heck to get out of the way."

Kennel Club Provides Aid For Hospital

A check for $200 was presented to the Auxiliary of Albers Hospital, Frostburg, by the Upper Potomac Valley Kennel Club.

The money will be used to purchase a water cooler for the second floor of the old wing.

Philip Carlson presided at the short business session and appointed a nominating committee, which will present its slate at the meeting November 21.

Thomas Iemmie was named chairman. Serving with her are Frank Urbis, Cliff Jeffries, Mrs. Robert Boniece and Mrs. Mildred Darbin.

A final report of the All Breed Show was given by Mrs. June Needer. Judges for the 1958 show were discussed.

Following the meeting Carlson entertained in appreciation of the work the members did in making this year's show such a success. The Halloween theme was used in the decorations and table appointments.

Chemist Units To Meet Friday

A joint meeting of the Western Maryland Section and the Hagerstown Section of the American Chemical Society will be held Friday at the Fountainhead Country Club, Hagerstown.

Speaker for the program will be William O. Wall, mechanical consultant to the sales division of the E. I. duPont de Nemours Company of Delaware.

He will speak on "Plastic As An Engineering Material."

Wall is a graduate of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and did graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He has worked in product development with duPont since 1938, specializing in new applications for plastics.

New items will be displayed by Wall in the field of plastics in aerosols for cosmetics.

University Cuts Outdoor Activities As Flu Climbs

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—The University of Maryland has cancelled ROTC drills and outdoor activities of required physical education for this week on the heels of more than 1,000 flu-like cases among students.

Dr. Harry A. Bishop, director of student health, said yesterday more than 1,500 students were examined and treated last week. He said 81 per cent were "flu-like cases."

One of about 200 students sent home with the flu, 21-year-old Nelson P. Lissau of Baltimore, died last Saturday. The State Health Department said Union Memorial Hospital was making tests to determine what caused Lissau's death.

Dr. Bishop estimated that he would be able to determine by tomorrow or Thursday if flu cases at the university had passed their peak.

Meanwhile both Dr. Bishop and administration officials agreed to check out stand by to raise a would be neither necessary nor desirable to close the university because of the flu.

"I am confident that we are on top of the situation," Dr. Bishop said, "and that the students are John."

County Officer To Make Report On Integration

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Police Chief Wilbur C. Wade of Anne Arundel County said today reports on integration troubles in his county would be completed early next week.

The chief said his men were still working on the cases, although no arrests have been made. State police submitted a preliminary report on the incidents last week.

Chief Wade made his statement after the retiring Anne Arundel County grand jury yesterday called for a report on last month's incidents at Deale Elementary School.

A cross-burning and breaking of windows prompted Dr. Harry N. Jones to withdraw his 5-year-old son from the newly integrated Deale school last month. The boy was the first Negro to be enrolled.

Later, a cross was burned on the lawn of Government House, Gov. McKeldin's residence.

New Mexico Still Hunter's Paradise

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (INS)—Despite an unparalleled industrial growth in New Mexico, the nation's fourth largest state remains a hunter's paradise.

The New Mexico state fish and game department reports that in the state's mountain and plains with another on U.S. 40 in Harbors there are an estimated 350,000 deer, 25,000 antelope, 7,000 elk, 2,000 black bears, 25,000 wild Merriam turkeys, 500 more big-horn sheep, 1,800 peccary and 400 Barbary sheep.

Accidental Death Hits Twice In Five Minutes

By The Associated Press

Accidental death struck twice in five minutes Sunday in Washington County.

State police said 31-year-old Robert Edward Maly of Rt. 6, Hagerstown, was driving with his wife and daughter when he came to a railroad grade crossing at Security.

Maly didn't see the Western Maryland freight train coming. His wife, Phyllis, 25, was killed and their 2-year-old daughter, Judith, suffered cuts of the scalp.

Maly was not hurt. Sgt. Charles Nades said the rural crossing had no mechanical warning device.

Five minutes earlier and six miles away, John A. A. Amshbaugh of Rt. 2, Selton, Pa., was driving along Maryland 60 north of Hagerstown. There was a head-on collision between his car and one driven by Charles Frank Burnett Jr., 33, Negro, of fingerstown.

Amshbaugh, 62-year-old widower, was dead of a crushed chest on arrival at Washington County Hospital.

Maryland counted nine accidental deaths during the weekend.

M. Sgt. Harry E. Gardner, 32, of Fort Holabird, Md., and James T. Cini, 33, of Baltimore, were killed.

In a car accident Sunday morning when a car game department reports that in the state's mountain and plains with another on U.S. 40 in Harbors there are an estimated 350,000 deer, 25,000 antelope, 7,000 elk, 2,000 black bears, 25,000 wild Merriam turkeys, 500 more big-horn sheep, 1,800 peccary and 400 Barbary sheep.

James K. Kolon, about 25, of Clayton, Del., and Marchel Clark, about 40, Smyrna, Del., both Negroes, died in a crash Saturday when their car went out of control on U.S. 40 near Elkton. Police said the car crashed into the gasoline pumps of a service station when Kolon swerved to avoid a tractor-trailer.

U. Of Md. Branded As Short-Sighted For Policies At Psychiatric Institute

BALTIMORE (AP)—The administration of the University of Maryland has been accused of being "short sighted" and showing "lack of understanding" in its policies regarding the psychiatric institute at University Hospital here.

The Maryland Council of Psychiatric Societies yesterday criticized the university for:

1. Installation of a cobalt unit for treatment of cancer on the same floor of the institute with a children's psychiatric clinic.

2. Allocation of psychiatric beds for other uses.

3. Acceptance of patients on the basis of their ability to pay rather than their value in the institute's training program.

The council—representing the three psychiatric societies of Maryland—sent its report to Gov. McKeldin, the university and the university's psychiatric department.

Installation of the Cobalt unit on the same floor with the children's clinic was criticized because cancer patients, disfigured by the disease, pass through the area used by the children.

The report said seeing the cancer patients was especially undesirable for young, emotionally disturbed patients.

"A psychiatric hospital is really a small community," which must be maintained intact, the report said. It cannot provide the right setting for treatment if "unplanned and disturbing factors."

The council wrote that cutting down the number of beds hampered the institute's training program by limiting the number of cases available for study.

The institute—opened in 1952 at a cost of 2½ million dollars—is in a separate building on the hospital grounds. The psychiatrists said it was not intended as a mere enlargement of the hospital but a unit to itself "especially designed for psychiatric treatment, training and research."

The council also implied the training program was limited by the acceptance of patients on the basis of their ability to pay.

Psychiatric care by necessity costs more than other types of medical service, and, the report said, "it is unrealistic for the patient fees in a State psychiatric hospital to be so important that indigent and lower-income patients are less acceptable than full paying patients.

The council recommended establishment of a "separate and adequate budget" for the institute, "determined primarily by its needs and not its income."

The institute has developed a good undergraduate program and is conducting significant research, the council said. But research and graduate training "cannot be carried out without adequate facilities of the type now being encroached upon," it concluded.

Van Horn's Trial Postponed

TOWSON (AP)—The murder trial of Robert Jett Van Horn was postponed yesterday until next Monday at the request of Baltimore County State's Attorney, Frank J. Newell III.

Van Horn, 52-year-old Baltimore lumber company executive, was scheduled to have gone on trial Wednesday in Circuit Court. He is charged with the slaying of his wife, Bernice Ward Van Horn, near their country estate at Shawan last June 1.

Van Horn pleaded innocent when arraigned, saying he was insane at the time of his wife's death. Newell told the court a postponement was necessary because certain doctors who are to testify in the case would not be available until Monday. Another 25 witnesses have been summoned to appear for the state and the defense.

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — About 200 persons turned out here last night in honor of Jacob Blaustein, Baltimore industrialist, philanthropist and adviser to national governments.

Blaustein, president of the American Oil Co., is serving as chairman of Maryland's United Nations Week which began yesterday. He is a former delegate to the United Nations and was a chief negotiator for the United States on reparations from West Germany.

Guests at the reception for Blaustein included Sen. Beall (R-Md.), Rep. Devereux (R-Md.), State officials and officers in the United Nations Assn. of Maryland.

Blaustein told the group: "The United Nations offers no cure for man's quarrelsome nature, but it does afford a place where men — and nations — can quarrel with words rather than with unleashed cosmic forces."

Man Injured By Own Car

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jean K. Clarendon, 31, of suburban Towson, suffered leg injuries yesterday when he was run over by his own car.

Patrolman Douglas Matterson said Clarendon had stepped his car to clean frost from the windshield. Clarendon had cleared the driver's side and was walking around the front of the car when the vehicle was struck in the rear by another automobile.

Clarendon was struck on the leg and thrown to the ground. He was taken to Union Memorial Hospital. Charles F. Schultz Jr. of Towson, driver of the other car, told police he was blinded by the early morning sun.

New Phase Develops In Reddick Case; Man Asks Medical License Reinstated

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (AP) — June 11, 1956, was signed by Dr. Reddick.

A new phase is developing in the already complex fight between Dr. Robert H. Reddick and the State of Maryland.

A former Californian has brought suit to have his medical license registered here in Prince Georges County Circuit Court. The State Attorney General's Office is opposing the move in an attempt to show that all licenses issued by Reddick are invalid.

Dr. Richard F. Savelli, formerly of Oakland, Calif., brought his legal action here last Friday. Yesterday, Circuit Judge John G. Gray directed Court Clerk W. Waverly Webb to show — by Nov. 15 — why the license should not be registered.

Webb, who is acting under instruction from the Attorney General's Office, said Savelli and Reddick both appeared here last Oct. 3 to have licenses registered. The clerk said the license, dated June 11, 1956, was signed by Dr. Reddick.

Webb said Reddick told him they planned to open practice in Mount Rainier, Md.

James H. Norris, assistant attorney general assigned to the prolonged Reddick case, said Dr. Savelli was refused because the validity of his license was challenged and Dr. Reddick was refused because he is already registered in Baltimore.

Norris said Dr. Savelli reportedly is a graduate of Western Medical School in San Francisco. Dr. Reddick is under indictment in California on a charge of conspiring to sell medical licenses there.

Dr. Reddick, ousted as chief psychiatrist at Eastern Shore State Hospital, formerly was head of a rump homeopathic medical examiners board.

The U. S. Supreme Court refused Oct. 14 to review the court orders which forbade Reddick from acting as a homeopathic medical examiner in Maryland.

At the same time, Reddick's trial on perjury charges was set for Nov. 25 in Baltimore. He is accused of perjury in making false affidavits to oppose Maryland's new Medical Practices Act which abolished the board he once headed.

Dr. Reddick also is charged with conspiring to violate the Medical Practices Act.

County Hears Complaint On Auction Sale

Woman Tells Board Constable Makes Purchase For Dealer

An attractive mother of three children appeared before the Allegany County Commissioners today to complain in the manner in which a public auction was conducted by a constable attached to Trial Magistrate Court.

She is Mrs. Alvira Louise Beall, 20 Race Street. The woman submitted a signed statement outlining what had happened at the auction and her efforts later on to obtain help from the state's attorney's office and from a trial magistrate.

Mrs. Beall said she had never before attended an auction, but on September 30 at 2 p. m. she went to 204 Decatur Street where one was being held by the constable.

She said when a bedroom furniture outfit was placed in auction she bid $12 after another woman had offered $10. Under the impression she had purchased the furniture, Mrs. Beall said she was surprised when a constable told her he had bid $13 for the furniture for a dealer of used furniture.

On October 2, Mrs. Beall related, a transfer truck pulled up at the house and workmen started to load the furniture. She said the constable offered to sell her the bedroom furniture on behalf of the dealer for $25 if she still wanted it.

"It's not the money or the furniture involved but the principle of the thing," she told the board. "You hear about juvenile delinquency, but I think that when grown men do such things it should be called adult delinquency."

Commissioner Charles N. Wilkins made a motion that the matter be investigated. Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, will conduct the investigation and report back to the board. The county board could, if it desired after hearing the facts in the case, prefer charges against the constable before the Civil Service Commission. Getty told the board. The county board has jurisdiction in view of the fact that the constable is a county employee, he added.

Cumberland Encampment 23, IOOF, will meet today at 7:30 p. m. at Odd Fellows Temple, South Mechanic Street.

A report will be given by Maurice E. Long, chief patriarch, who represented the encampment at the Grand Encampment of Maryland, held recently in Baltimore.

SHOW 900 PER CENT INCREASE—Contributions for charitable purposes have increased 900 per cent at the Cumberland Undergarment Company since the payroll deduction plan was put into effect, according to James Weber and Edward Ewald, co-chairmen of the Classified Division of the County United Fund.

Before the plan was introduced at the local plant, employees giving totaled about $70. This year, the amount skyrocketed to $782.50. Above, with Cuffy, the CUF mascot, are, left to right, Ewald, Sol Glickman, Enid Viney, Winifred Browning, Alberta Laslo, Elsie Shepherd, Dorothy Cunge and Weber.

Flu Taking Toll Among Paper Boys

If you happen to miss your Evening or Sunday Times, don't blame the newsboy. Blame the flu.

The flu bug has cut a swath through the roster of Times-News carrier boys but despite the illness, boys have done a tremendous job in covering their routes even while sick or providing substitute carriers to make sure papers reach homes on time.

James T. White, Times-News assistant circulation manager, in paying tribute to the youngsters, also gave parents a share of the credit for keeping newspapers rolling. He said in some instances both mother and father helped out. In one particular case, a boy's father carried his Sunday route but when his work prevented him from making it on weekdays, a friend, whose son is also a newspaper carrier, covered the route for him.

Other parents look their ailing boy along the route by automobile, then returned him home and to bed.

As a result of the flu, White said there have been a few complaints. The public could cooperate with the circulation department by reporting loss of a paper the first day rather than waiting two or three days, he added. That way, the office can take steps to correct the situation and provide route coverage immediately.

White said he knows of 15 flu cases among the carrier boys and suspects there are a number more. In some cases, he continued, both the regular route carriers and their substitutes have become ill.

"This has resulted in the circulation department calling out several old carriers who had 'retired'."

Cumberland In Danger Of Losing Two Armories

The construction of two modern buildings in the Cumberland area each at an estimated cost of about a quarter-million dollars, is about to be lost, according to a spokesman for the Army Corps of Engineers.

The buildings are armories, one for the Army Reserve and the other for the National Guard, and the corps spokesman explained that unless a site for each can be agreed on in the near future the appropriations will be used for such construction elsewhere.

City officials who have been working with the Corps of Engineers on the location problem said that nearly a dozen sites have been tentatively agreed on only to have the negotiations blocked by action of residents of the areas who for various reasons do not want such structures in the vicinity of their homes.

The armories, it was emphasized, will be good-looking, modern structures that will not 'blight' any area. A number of residents who at first entered protests against the location of one of the armories near their homes have changed their opinions after finding out the quality of the structures, city spokesmen said.

Such buildings will permit youths to enlist in the armed forces and spend all but six months of their enlistment period at home, city officials said, the armories also would offer a number of other advantages.

One of the major considerations is the enormous amount of money that the government itself can save, directly affected in the taxpayers' pocketbook, when the various services can be relieved of the necessity of maintaining large training centers.

The structures can also be utilized for various public, civic and fraternal projects, city officials pointing out that facilities at the Naval Reserve Training Center on McKays Hill has frequently been offered for use in civic functions.

Two License Holders Get Court Fines

Two liquor license holders were given heavy fines in Circuit Court yesterday afternoon by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris on charges involving minors.

The Cadillac Liquor Stores, Inc., 25-27 North Mechanic Street, was fined $500 for employing a 19-year-old youth to play the piano at the night club and also for allowing him to loiter about the premises. It is illegal to employ minors in an establishment which sells alcoholic beverages.

An appeal will be taken from the fines to the Maryland Court of Appeals, according to William A. Gunter, attorney for the Cadillac firm. The licensees are Jane H. Molinari, John L. Farrin and William D. Trozz.

Judge Harris fined the Cumberland Liquor Store, Inc., 419 Henderson Avenue, a total of $1,000 on two charges of sales of intoxicants to minors. The license holders are Julius Grabenstein, Mary Emma Carolan and Margaret Schooley.

Judge Harris in assessing the fines reminded liquor license holders that they are engaged in a "hazardous business."

Harry Wayne Little, 19, of 55 North Mechanic Street, principal witness in the Cadillac case, said he had been employed by Frank Molinari for seven or eight weeks ending last June as a piano player in a trio.

Little said he and Norwood Edmonson and Robert Morgan received $31 each night they played. He also said the trio had played at six other places in Allegany County during the past few years.

Judge Harris said other violations did not excuse the Cadillac case.

The Cumberland Liquor Store case involved the sale of a bottle of wine to a 15-year-old boy for 72 cents.

The trial of Harvey Linn, city on a charge of statutory rape, has been removed to Garrett County Circuit Court in Oakland on the request of defense counsel.

Linn is accused of a sex offense against a 14-year-old Corriganville girl several months ago. The girl is one of two who were involved with about a dozen young men during the past six months. The cases of this group were disposed of during the summer with some receiving prison terms and some placed on parole.

A case against Francis Simpson, city, for statutory rape was started today before a jury with Chief Judge George Henderson presiding.

Simpson, represented by Albert A. Douth, attorney, is accused of a sex offense against one of the two 14-year-old Corriganville girls mentioned in the previous case.

Two other men also charged with statutory rape involving the same girls will be tried later. They are James E. Porter and Dewey Emerick. Their attorney, Thomas N. Berry, is ill and unable to appear in court.

County Board Praised For Road Project

Man Will Be Billed For Extra Work He Caused Department

An infrequent occurrence took place at today's meeting of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

A couple residing on the East Wilson Road appeared before the board concerning road work which was done by the county on their thoroughfare recently.

Guy A. Evans told the board "what I'm going to say will surprise you, as I know you usually get complaints about roads."

Evans said the road repairs by the county were wonderful and he wished to thank the commissioners.

Then, he told the board he did have something to bring up. Evans said a man who had refused to grant the county a right-of-way when the road was widened had turned the flow from his septic tank into a ditch along the road. Evans said he felt that if the man would not give the county a right of way then he should not use the county road ditch for his septic tank overflow.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, said he would have the Health Department check the septic tank flow complaint.

Chapman also asked the board to bill Charles Walters, a substitute mail carrier on the East Wilson Road route for work required by the county when Walters allegedly used a bulldozer on the road on or about October 7.

Chapman said Walters had used the bulldozer to push some mud against fences on the roadway when his car became stuck at a hill area after a heavy rain.

Chapman said the use of the bulldozer was unauthorized.

It required four hours work by a bulldozer, a grader, a power shovel, two trucks and four workmen to place the road into condition, Chapman stated. Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, was instructed to write a letter to Walters concerning the bill for this extra work.

Robert Kelly, a civilian employee at Fort Belvoir, Va., spent the weekend with his wife and other relatives.

Richard Wilson has accepted employment in Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Griffith Jr., Baltimore, visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Griffith Sr.

Carl Davis, Mt. Pleasant, spent the weekend with his wife here. Mrs. Davis is nursing her mother, Mrs. Birdie Ashby, who is ill.

Edison Broadwater, Fort Belvoir, Va., spent the weekend with his wife and family here.

Plan Service In Frostburg

FROSTBURG—The Frostburg Council of Church Women will hold its annual World Community Day service Friday, November 1, at 7:30 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church, Broadway.

Mrs. Francis Richardson and Mrs. Ralph M. Race are co-chairmen in charge of arrangements.

The theme of the world-wide observance this year is "Bread, Freedom and Dignity." Dr. Thomas V. Baucum, a member of the faculty of State Teachers College, will deliver the message. All men and women in the community may attend this service. Its purpose is to stimulate Christians everywhere to an awareness of their responsibility to the emerging peoples of the world.

Parcels for peace will be accumulated in the annex of the church, and will be dedicated during the service. These parcels may contain clean clothing, household linens or materials or blankets. All articles must be packaged, as loose articles will not be acceptable.

The offering will go toward the United Church Women's program for peace and for projects in undeveloped areas.

Church Group Meets Tonight

MIDLOTHIAN — A meeting of Christ's Ambassadors, young people's group of Trinity Methodist Church, will be held today at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

An offering will be taken, with the proceeds scheduled for the Speed-The-Light organization that provides equipment for Assembly of God missionaries.

Evangelist Ruth Cowgill, Cresaptown, will be the speaker at the meeting. She and an accompanist will provide music.

Frostburg

FROSTBURG — Admitted to Miners Hospital as medical patients were: Robert Shearer, 8 Orchard Street; John Hersick, Klondike; Carlene Fazenbaker, Lonaconing; Niles Feyer, Lonaconing; Frank Preston, 87 Mechanic Street; Mrs. Edith Mayhew, 137 Main Street, Westport; Mrs. Mary Linnenbarger, RD 3, Frostburg; Mrs. Nellie Carter, Eckhart; Roy Durst, Midland; Frank Powers, 114 Wood Street; Paul Walbert, Mt. Savage; Karen Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon, RD 1, Frostburg; Norma Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mason, Eckhart; and Mrs. Arvela Loar, Gilmore.

Cub Pack To Meet

Westernport Homemakers To Hold Meet

PIEDMONT — The monthly meeting of the Westernport Homemakers Club will be held Friday at 2 p.m. instead of 7:30 p.m. in Trinity Methodist Church.

Mrs. Harry Pence, music chairman, will give the history of the hymn of the month, "When Morning Gilds the Skies", which will be sung by the group.

Mrs. Martin Weakley, home furnishing chairman, will have charge of the program, at which time Mrs. Roosevelt Riegleman of the McCoolle club will give a demonstration on furniture upholstery.

The nominating committee composed of Mrs. Vernon Frye, Mrs. Kemper Cline, Miss Ruth Michael and Miss Jessie Smith will submit their report. A president and treasurer will be elected.

The song of the month, "My Old Kentucky Home", will close the meeting. Miss Ruth Michael, Mrs. Howard Michael, Mrs. John Noughton and Mrs. Blossom Gregg will be hostesses during a social period.

Miss Mary P. Wise, home demonstration agent, will speak at the November meeting. Several members will attend the County Achievement meeting at the Shrine Club in Cumberland this evening.

St. Peter's PTA Heads Installed For School Year

WESTERNPORT — Officers of St. Peter's school were installed by Rev. Linus E. Robinson at the first meeting of the school year.

Mrs. Russell Brown is president; Mrs. Cecil Bateson, vice president; Mrs. James Kelly, secretary and Mrs. Stuart McGreevy, treasurer.

The welcome to parents at the meeting was extended by Thomas Donnelly, a pupil in the Third Grade. The group voted to sponsor a Halloween party for the children of the school on Thursday, October 31, under the direction of the homeroom mothers.

James Kelly and Alphonse DeLerman showed movies of the parish picnic sponsored by the PTA in July.

Plans for a covered dish supper Friday, November 8, were made recently at the home of Mrs. Harry Kidwell. Named to serve on the committee with Mrs. Kidwell were Mrs. Frank Beckman, Mrs. Manuel Blanco, Mrs. John Donnelly, Mrs. John Laughlin, Mrs. Edgar Kolberg, Mrs. Louis Fatkin, Mrs. Joseph Whelan, Mrs. Joseph Serpone and Mrs. James Fairall.

Police Issue Warning To Pranksters

FROSTBURG—Chief of Police Lloyd Truly has issued a warning to parents and children of the city concerning current Halloween pranks. He said any children caught destroying property or committing a nuisance will be taken before Juvenile Court and School, Church School, library and in the campus school.

Truly said he felt it unnecessary to issue such a warning each year and that parents have a right to caution their children on some entertainment and not have the Police Department assume the responsibility and come in for a lot of criticism if children are apprehended destroying property.

The chief has asked that youth groups, Sunday schools, churches and school groups plan activities so that the children may celebrate the Halloween season in an enjoyable manner.

Professional Experience Program Begins At FSTC

FROSTBURG — Announcement has been made of the professional experience program being introduced at State Teachers College for members of the freshman class.

The move is to begin professional experiences in the early training of teacher-education students, and will embody a four-year sequence of training.

During the first year students will observe and participate in community youth activities such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Brownies, Sunday School, Church School, library and in the campus school.

The second year will be spent observing teaching and case study of individual children in the activities and classes of the campus school. During the third year there will be instruction in professional education courses and practice teaching.

In the final and fourth year, students will have practice teaching and review teaching experiences prior to graduation.

The objective of the new program is to provide future teachers an opportunity to know and understand children; to develop awareness of child needs and interests related to learning; to provide participation in children's activities; to experience the range and differences in growth and development of children; to encourage participation and leadership in community activities; and to aid in the enrichment of community youth programs.

The program is another step in the integration of the college and community activities to establish mutual understanding and benefits to Frostburg and the Western Maryland area.

Freshmen are assigned as requested by cooperating community agencies for observation and participation in youth programs.

Leaders in youth activities, who desire to join with the college in this pre-professional training program, are requested to write James A. Hosack, Education Department, State Teachers College, Frostburg or phone 296.

Celtics And Hawks Open NBA Season Tonight

Rival Clubs Again Seen As Winners In Divisions

By FRED DE LUCA
NEW YORK—(INS)—The Boston Celtics and the St. Louis Hawks, favored to repeat as division champions, open the National Basketball Association's 12th season tonight when they clash in St. Louis.

The contest kicks off a long season in which each of the league's eight teams will play a 72-game schedule before starting the playoffs leading up to the championship set.

Boston, which whipped the Hawks for the title in seven games last spring, invades St. Louis with much the same wrecking crew that ripped the NBA apart last season.

Bill Russell Ready
The Celtics still have their line backcourt duo of Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman and will have big Bill Russell for the entire season, unlike last year's part-time performance.

Add to that terrific trio the names of Tom Heinsohn, Jim Loscutoff and Frank Ramsey and it becomes evident rookies will have a hard time breaking into the Boston starting five.

St. Louis once again boasts the incomparable Bob Pettit and looks to service-returned Frank Selvy and rookie Win Wilfong to give the team a shot in the arm.

There are two new franchises in the Western Division since the Royals moved from Rochester to Cincinnati and the "Pistons" switched from Fort Wayne to Detroit.

Hot Rod With Larks
Cincinnati obtained Clyde Lovellette and Jim Paxson in a trade with Minneapolis and lured George King out of retirement.

The Royals still have two fine operators in Maurice Stokes and Jack Twyman.

The Pistons acquired such veterans as Harry Gallatin, Sweet-Eater Clifton, Dick McGuire and Ed Kalafatis to go with George Yardley and Chuck Noble.

Minneapolis traded for Lou Fleming, Larry Foust and Art Spoelstra and has two good-looking rookies in Jim Krebs of Southern Methodist and Hot-Rod Hundley of West Virginia.

Philadelphia still has its 1-2 scoring punch of Paul Arizin and Neil Johnston. The warriors expect Tom Gola, who sparked the last Philadelphia championship team, to return from service soon.

Syracuse obtained Larry Costello from Philadelphia to solve its backcourt woes and looks for the return of servicemen Ed Conlin.

New York is banking on Charlie Tyra, the Louisville center, and Mel Hutchins, late of the Pistons, to lift it out of last place.

Mexico Wins Team Event In House Show

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(INS)—Mexico captured its first blue ribbon at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show last night by winning the initial team event in a three-place international low out of joint in tossing a right in score competition for riders from the seven nations.

The United States team was hand in the fifth, and used its second, England, third, and Chile sparingly thereafter, but his left fourth. Ireland, Argentina and Canada failed to place in the first round for a three count in the final round.

Corum Takes Exception To Views Of MacPhail

By BILL CORUM
NEW YORK—(INS)—There's an interesting piece about Larry MacPhail's views on baseball in the current Sporting News. Larry's views are apt to be interesting and quite often correct. But he can also be wrong.

Thus, many of the ideas that he offers in this interview with Taylor Spink are sound and plainly true, whereas at other times he seems to wander hither and yon in his thinking, or, at any rate, his talking in quotes in this article, and finally to step into some terribly deep holes.

To begin with he advocates continuous major league baseball in the many cities in this country and Canada that he feels rate big league teams.

He is right about the cities—it has been a bad joke for a decade to speak of big league cities in this country while Los Angeles, for example, was a minor league city—but I think he is absolutely wrong about the continuous baseball in these cities.

Didn't Work Other Places
MacPhail tells of the time when he was president of the Yankees and was close to making a deal with Stoneham to move the Giants into the Stadium.

If, however, Stoneham had moved into the Stadium then or at any future date, he would have signed a sure death warrant for the Giants than he did by trying to sit tight in a Polo Grounds.

That didn't work in St. Louis. It wouldn't work in Philadelphia. It wouldn't, and couldn't work in any city in this country. Nor will it ever.

Because, don't you see that where there is continuous baseball in the same city with two teams, there is an up-team and a

CAPTAINS MEET THE QUEEN—Dave Reed (left), North Carolina co-captain, and Gene Alkerton of Cumberland, Maryland co-captain, are shown meeting Queen Elizabeth prior to the start of Saturday's game at College Park. ## Sooners Back As Leaders In AP Grid Poll

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press
After a one-week absence, Oklahoma was back in its accustomed spot atop the Associated Press football poll today.

As if to lend emphasis to the change, Michigan State, which had displaced the Sooners at the top of the heap a week ago, tumbled all the way down to eighth.

Nor were the Spartans the only ones to nosedive. Minnesota, Oregon State and Arkansas, all of whom were high on the list before each absorbed a beating Saturday, dropped.

The votes by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters were tabulated on the usual 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc.

Oklahoma, which hung up its 44th consecutive victory Saturday—a 47-0 lacing of hapless Kansas—got 1,365 points compared to 1,108 for second-place Texas A&M. Oklahoma had 89 first-place votes and Texas A&M 5.

The Aggies advanced from third to second by virtue of their hard-earned 7-0 victory over Texas Christian.

Following them in the top 10, in order, were Iowa, Duke, Auburn, Mississippi, Notre Dame, Michigan State, Army and Louisiana State.

Gophers Topple
Michigan State was the only one of Saturday's losers that managed to stay in the top 10. Minnesota tumbled from fourth to 14th, while Oregon State and Arkansas, seventh and eighth, were dropped.

Bob Satterfield Earns Decision
PITTSBURGH (INS)—Bob Satterfield, 181½, Chicago, won a 10-round split decision last night over Garvin Sawyer, 184½, Cincinnati, protégé of former champion Jersey Joe Walcott, here winning the initial team event in a three-place international low out of joint in tossing a right in score competition for riders from the seven nations.

The United States team was hand in the fifth, and used its second, England, third, and Chile sparingly thereafter, but his left fourth. Ireland, Argentina and Canada failed to place in the first round for a three count in the final round.

Queen Stops McKeldin On First Question

BALTIMORE (AP)—Maryland's Gov. McKeldin, host to Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip at the Maryland-North Carolina football game last Saturday, told a luncheon audience today the Queen's first question when the teams came on the field was:

"Where do you get all these players?"

McKeldin's reply: "Your majesty, that is a very embarrassing question."

Pastrano Fights Today In London

LONDON (AP)—Britain's latest heavyweight hope, Dick Richardson, dares Willie Pastrano to "slug it out" when he takes on the fourth-ranked American tonight in a 10-round match at Harringway Arena.

"I shan't mess about trying to box him," said Richardson, a 23-year-old Welsh milkman with limited pro experience. "I shall go and try to slug it out with him."

British boxing fans conceded Richardson's best chance rests in landing a lucky punch on the fleshy New Orleans master boxer. Pastrano, veteran of 52 fights at the age of 21, is the 2 to 1 favorite.

Although Richardson was knocked out by Nino Valdes, the hulking Cuban, last December, a capacity crowd of 11,000 will see this international match.

For a switch, it is the American with the fancy style and dancing feet while the British lad has the heavy punch in his right hand.

Richardson has a 20-3 record for 23 fights with 17 knockouts. Most of his opponents were the home-grown variety and hardly up to the standard that Pastrano has met on his way toward the top of the division.

Pastrano has a 43-5-4 record for 52 scraps. However, he has been knocked out only eight. He never has been stopped.

Sick Players

up this Friday, aside from the Turkey Day clash with the Campers, are still racked by the flu. The Red Raiders will travel to Westminster Friday to meet the Owls head-on for the lead in the CVAL and the winner could very well go on to grab the bunting.

Both were forced to call off their games last week, the Owls having to postpone the clash against Handley Saturday afternoon in Winchester because of the flu.

Seven Starters On List
Coach Bill Hahn has seven regulars out yet and had only 28 from the varsity and jayvees available for yesterday's first workout. Most of the gridgers who were felled last week are back to class but their availability is still a day-to-day proposition.

Quarterback Charles Robinson and halfback Doug Metz, both sidelined last week, returned for their first drill yesterday as the Sentinels had to take things easy. The Red Raiders, as Hahn pointed out, are "hurting" because the second and third teams also had a long list of sick players.

Both starting ends, Fred Kingler and Jerry Meeks, center Fred Joyce, tackles Harry Rowley and Walter Reed and halfbacks Thurl Roy and Leroy Henry are still recovering from the illness, seven being back in school for the first time yesterday.

Guard Harry Appel took sick over the weekend and also missed yesterday's workout. As with Geatz and Payne, the Sentinel boss will have to gauge his practices daily, checking the sick list to see who is available and what work can be accomplished each afternoon.

However, all three schools are expected to be able to play this week. The city clash will start at 8 o'clock with the Sentinels leaving around noon Friday for their 8:30 kickoff time against the Owls at Westminster.

Quarterback Dick Winterbauer of Yale played the position for three seasons at Arlington Heights, Ill., High School. He also played basketball there and competed with the shotput and discus on the track team.

Rademacher Busy Now As Businessman

COLUMBUS, Ga.—Pete Rademacher is busy being a business executive these days—but not too busy to keep in trim if the right fight comes along.

Rademacher is the Olympic boxing champion who tried to make the long jump from the amateurs to the world's heavyweight title in one fight. He failed, going down before the flailing fists of champion Floyd Patterson. But he wasn't stopped until he'd put on a much better show than the "experts" had expected.

Strictly A Sideline
Fighting is strictly a sideline with Pete, as it always has been. But he admits if the opponent and the price—and the publicity value—are right, he is interested.

"I didn't go into the Patterson fight just to become a professional boxer," Pete said today. "I wanted to get some recognition for Youth Unlimited, Inc., and hoped to make some money to get the firm going."

Rademacher and his backers didn't make any money from the Patterson fight. Their share of the gate didn't equal the $20,000 guarantee they put up for the champ, so they wound up in the red. But the fight did get some publicity for Youth Unlimited.

Rademacher explains that Youth Unlimited is a corporation designed to help instill character building traits in young people as well as make money for the stockholders. It is primarily a promotional organization, he said, but in some cases it may branch out into manufacturing.

Veep Of Organization
Pete is vice president of Youth Unlimited, and has been busy with paper work since the Patterson fight.

There is nothing definite as far as his fight future is concerned. "I've been thinking seriously about going on a tour and boxing some exhibitions," Rademacher said. "That'd probably take me out of the country. And it would help me keep in shape in case the right fight comes along."

Pete says if he does fight again he'll be shooting for the top, but that doesn't mean he'll settle for anything except another title shot. Rademacher said he turned down a $20,000 offer from the International Boxing Club for a television fight shortly after his loss to Patterson in August and recently turned down another similar offer.

"I felt I had nothing to gain," he explained.

Would Be Ready
But if Pete's right fight comes along, he'll be ready. He is doing a lot of road and gym work to "try to build up my endurance, which I feel was lacking in the Patterson fight. It would take very little training for me to get in shape if I decide to fight again."

Sooners Back Atop Dunkel Grid Ratings

By DICK DUNKEL
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (Special)—Oklahoma, Iowa, and Mississippi emerged from last weekend's college football scramble as strong leaders in the Dunkel Index standing.

The Sooners, regaining their No. 1 spot from faltering Michigan State, pushed their rating to 118.1 in a 47-0 walloping of Kansas.

28.2 Superlarity
Oklahoma's average scoring superiority of 28.2 points per game added to its opposition index of 29.9 results in its present top figure. The Sooners have won 44 straight games and are 4-0 on the current season.

Iowa, also 4-0, moved into second place, with 112.6, after dropping Wisconsin, 21-7.

Rebels Take Third
Mississippi, 5-0, grabbed third on a 50-0 trouncing of Tulane.

Other current leaders, their records and scores of last Saturday, are: Michigan State, 3-1, lost to Purdue, 13-20; Duke, 5-0, won from Wake Forest, 34-7; Wisconsin, 3-1, lost to Iowa, 7-21; Rice, 3-1, won from SMU, 27-21; UCLA, 4-1, won from Oregon State, 26-7.

The Power Index, which shows this season's average scoring difference relative to rating of opposition, ranks the top 120 teams as follows:

Eisenhower To Give Boost To 'Little Army-Navy' Game

By MARTY SUTPHIN
ANNAPOLIS—(AP)—Football players come in two sizes at some eastern colleges.

These seven schools, where varsity football is king, also field teams in the Eastern Intercollegiate 150-Pound Football League.

Lightweight football, an 11-year-old game, has yet to gain much prominence on sports page. But it will get a boost next Saturday when President Eisenhower views the first clash of the "mighty mites" from Army and Navy.

This "Little Army-Navy Game" will be played in the Naval Academy's Thompson Stadium for the benefit of a $3,000,000 Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium to be constructed here.

Eisenhower will see a fast football game in which lumbering linemen weigh no more than fleet halfbacks and are just as swiftnipped.

Weigh In Night
Lightweight football is played exactly like its big brother sport. The playing rules are similar to those used by the heavyweights, and the players' equipment is the same—but smaller.

The squads weigh-in the night before each game, and anyone heavier than 151 pounds is ineligible for the battle next day.

The sport operates under a purist code which outlaws spring practice and scouting or movies. The league rules also prohibit any team from beginning practice until two weeks before its first game.

Started In 1933
The game, frequently billed as "one of the most unusual sports in the athletic world," made its appearance in 1933. Yale, Princeton and Lafayette comprised the conference prior to 1941. The war years brought a halt to lightweight competition, but a reorganization in 1946 saw Yale and Princeton joined by Cornell, Pennsylvania, Rutgers, Villanova and Navy.

Since that time, Columbia has replaced Villanova, and the sport has been dropped by Yale. Army joined the loop this season.

Each club in the league plays a round-robin schedule, meeting every other league member once during the season.

Navy has won the league championship nine times since the league was re-organized 11 years ago. The Midgies yielded the crown to Villanova in 1949 and Princeton in 1954.

Navy's lightweight players were once known to the rest of the midshipman brigade as the "rinky dinks." Today, after nine league titles, they are more respectfully known as the "mighty mites."

Tar coach Ed Golding, a former Navy guard, thinks football fans watching the "150's" for the first time will be delighted with the game.

"It is played by boys who may have been excellent high school players, but are too small for our varsity," Golding says. "So they play 150-pound ball for pure love of the game, and, believe me, they play it hard."

FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS
PITTSFIELD, Mass.—(NEA)—Bobby Jones III, son of the Grand Slam king, won the Pittsfield city golf championship for the fourth time with 78.67-73-218.

Three regulars on Michigan State's football team come from Massachusetts. They are Tony Kolndziej of Florence, Walt Kowalczyk of Westfield and Pat Burke of Lawrence.

GW Gridders Disappoint In League Action

By The Associated Press
George Washington's Colonials have to be considered one of the big disappointments of the Southern Conference football season so far, and there appear to be reasons—a couple, in fact—why the situation won't improve to any degree this weekend.

First of all, the Colonials—who so far have won just one of four league starts—run into red-hot Virginia Military Institute.

Key Players Ailing
More importantly, GW apparently will go against VMI with sophomore Ed Hino—a third-stringer when the season opened—operating at quarterback. And the Colonials appear to be in trouble at end and fullback, too.

Hino has moved up to the starting berth because of injuries to both Ray Looney, out for the season with a dislocated shoulder, and Jack Jenzen, a doubtful per-adjured winner of the $100 former Saturday because of a badly jammed thumb on his right hand.

Other doubtful starters for GW are fullback Dick Claypool and end Bill Berry.

VMI's only casualty also is a quarterback, Bobby Ross, who suffered a broken nose against William & Mary and is not expected to play this week. The Keydets went through a defensive review yesterday.

Longfellow To Start
Both The Citadel and Furman were reported in good physical shape for their Saturday night battle of unbeaten inside-the-league teams.

William & Mary, which meets West Virginia in a league game Saturday, had tackle Dick Hoyer and quarterback Bob Harbage put of action with minor injuries.

Dick Longfellow was named by Coach Art Lewis to start his second game this season at quarterback for West Virginia because of impressive performances against Boston University and GW. Hall-

Charles Rizer Wins 'Export' Grid Contest

Charles H. Rizer of 548 Fairview Avenue is the third winner of the Cumberland Brewing Company's Old Export football contest.

Rizer, along with 25 other area pluckin prognosticators, picked the correct score of Maryland's 21-7 upset victory over North Carolina Saturday, a game played before Queen Elizabeth of England.

The Fairview Avenue man was adjudged winner of the $100 weekly award on the basis of coming closest to guessing Maryland's rushing yardage. The Terps rolled up 240 yards on the ground and Rizer's guess was 235.

Anna Peterson, 20 Arch Street, submitted only one entry and missed the prize by just ten yards. She had the winning team gaining 230 yards from scrimmage. No other correct-score guessers came within less than 39 yards of the rushing figure.

This week's contest features Saturday's game at College Park between Maryland and Tennessee. More than 6,000 entries were submitted last week, most of the guessers selecting North Carolina to win.

Forrestal, Handel Again Cited For Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Forrestal, Navy quarterback and Walt Handel, Delaware guard, have been named for the second time this season to the weekly All-East team of the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

Forrestal completed 10 of 17 passes for 135 yards and scored once against Georgia. He was voted the outstanding player of the Oyster Bowl game at Norfolk, Va.

TRIPLE THREAT
CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—(NEA)—Dave Reed, triple threat quarterback, contributed generously as North Carolina bounced back after the opening defeat at the hands of North Carolina State.

Giants Want Phoenix For Coast Team

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants want their spring training home, Phoenix, Ariz., for their entry in the Pacific Coast League.

Shift of the Dodgers and Giants of the National League to Los Angeles and San Francisco means the PCL, highest minor league in baseball, must be realigned or go out of business.

President Horace Stoneham of the Giants yesterday bought the Phoenix franchise and his office here said PCL permission will be sought to locate a team there.

Second Stoneham Move

It was the second recent move by Stoneham. A week ago, the Giants and Boston Red Sox traded their minor league franchises. The Giants are to get the San Francisco one in exchange for Minneapolis of the American Assn.

Since players are not involved in the shifts, the Phoenix club would be manned by many who played for Minneapolis this past season and the Minnesota Metropolitans will have the former San Francisco Seals, PCL champs this year.

All this needs approval by six votes in the PCL meeting scheduled for Sacramento on Nov. 1. At this same time compensation to the PCL will be discussed.

The Giants have held their spring training in Phoenix since 1947.

PCL Not Approached

A spokesman for the PCL said it has not been officially approached on the proposed inclusion of Phoenix in a realigned league.

The spokesman said Phoenix was one of many cities on which the league has compiled information.

"We have studied all these cities which have been mentioned in the press, on radio or on television as possible sites of relocated PCL teams," he said.

At least three new cities must be added. One to replace San Francisco, a second for Los Angeles and a third for Hollywood.

Although Phoenix sources said it was understood the present Phoenix municipal stadium did not have sufficient seating capacity for PCL baseball, Stoneham's office noted that the Phoenix park accommodated 9,000 fans for the spring training games.

The PCL seeks to stay in business as a triple-A classification minor league, a notch below its present "open" status.

AKC Trials To End Today

The four-day AKC licensed field trial of the Allegany Beagle Club was to close today with the judging of 15-inch all-age females this morning at the Barton Dairy Farm, McMillen Highway, Drawings were scheduled for 9 o'clock in the ninth annual event.

Orchard View Moon, owned by Arthur Hickman, of Canonsburg, Pa., was picked the best of the 15-inch all-age males entered yesterday. The winning hound was handled by C. E. McClelland, of Washington, Pa.

A Cumberland-owned hound crashed the select circle for the first time during the three days when Siltcher's Jerry, owned by Louis Siltcher, secretary of the Allegany Beagle Club, earned reserve honors.

Orchard Moon now has won three AKC licensed field trials and needs only seven points to earn championship rating. The goal is 120 points.

With 11 entries yesterday, the total was boosted to 78 for the number that have been judged by Bob Shockey, of Meyersdale, Pa., and C. E. Martin, of New Castle, Pa., for the three days. Beagles from five states have been competing in the trials. Yesterday's results:

1. Orchard View Moon, owned by Arthur Hickman, Canonsburg, Pa., and handled by C. E. McClelland, Washington, Pa.

2. Red Oak Buddy, Homer Morris, Boone, Pa.

3. Jiggs Boy IV, owned by Max Sharrock, Newcomersdown, Ohio, and handled by Tom Moore, Fort Washington, Ohio.

4. Pete's Sammy, owned by Leo Hickman, Wolf Dale, Pa., and handled by Carl Hickman, Washington, Pa.

Reserve: Siltcher's Jerry, owned and handled by Louis E. Siltcher, Cumberland.

Washington Sure Of Having Senators For Another Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The capital is sure of keeping its American League baseball team for 1958. But the question bouncing around again today was whether the Senators will soon look for gold for future years in some other city.

Immediate hopes of Minneapolis and St. Paul were dashed yesterday when the Senators' Board of Directors voted to remain in Washington next year.

The club said feelers also had been received from two other unidentified cities. These likewise were brushed off for the time being.

But it became clear that owners of the Senators will still listen to offers from Minneapolis, St. Paul and others.

Club President Calvin Griffith last year weighed a proposition from Los Angeles, but he and the other board members finally voted it down. The Brooklyn Dodgers have since moved into that territory.

While insisting he does not want to leave Washington, and has no plans to do so, Griffith has said he feels obliged to lay any sound offer before the directors.

Duke Leads ACC In Four Divisions

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Duke's ground-devouring Blue Devils, who have now successfully moved past five 1957 opponents, lead the Atlantic Coast Conference in four of the six major team statistical divisions after last Saturday's victory over Wake Forest.

Duke, according to ACC Service Bureau figures, tops total offense, rushing offense, total defense and rushing defense. Only the two passing leads evade the Blue Devils, Virginia claiming the top in both.

The Duke figures:

Total offense—356.4 yards per game.

Rushing offense—322.0 yards per game.

Total defense—178.4 yards per game given up.

Rushing defense—110.2 yards per game given up.

Virginia has picked up an average of 87.4 yards per game passing, at the same time yielding only 44.6 through the air lanes.

FEW OUTSIDERS

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—If you want to become a football coach it might be a good idea to try for a spot as a player on the Notre Dame varsity. Six of Notre Dame's coaches played for the Irish. They are head coach Terry Brennan and his aides, Bill Fischer, Bill Walsh, Jack Zilly, Bernie Witucki and Bernie Cummings. The only "outsider" on the staff is Henry Stram who played football at Purdue.

Mrs. Sarah Siddons, noted English actress, was 76 years old when she died in 1931.

Race Tightened In Liquor Loop

Burke's Tavern, King's Tavern, and Wonder Bar shook up the South End Liquor Dealers Bowling League, marking up victories to tighten the race.

Burkes tripped pacing Lynn and Racey, 2-1, while Wonder Bar edged Spa Bar by the same score and Kings posted a 3-0 shut-out over Frank's Tavern. The triumph for Kings shoved them into a tie with Spas for second place, only two games off the pace of Lynn and Racey.

John Reimleier (222) and Bill Cox (376) led Wonder Bar's whitewashing with the evening's top game and set.

Other team pacers were Curly Felten 218 and Mil Dean and Cecil Grimes, both with 462, Spa Bar, "Ace" Sirbaugh 208 and Herb Sarver 503, King's, Joe Lecker 189 and Charley Drew 472, Frank's, Sarver 158 and John Rice 455, Lynn and Racey, Dick Biltner, 208-487, Burkes, Standings:

W. L.	W. L.
Lynn & Racey 13 3	Wonder Bar 10 4
Spa Bar 11 7	Burkes 9 5
King's 11 7	Frank's 9 5

Duke, NC State To Tangle In Atlantic 'Game of Year'

By The Associated Press

Saturday's Atlantic Coast Conference football game at Raleigh, N. C., matching two national powerhouses, Duke and North Carolina State, shapes up as the conference game-of-the-year.

Both teams go to the game without a loss on their records. Duke, ranked fourth nationally, has won five straight. State, ranked 11th nationally, has won four and tied one.

Will State be tough? Duke Coach Bill Murray says:

"Any team going into its sixth game with the record they have and with only three touchdowns being scored against them is bound to be tough. State has a good defensive background."

How about Duke? State Coach Earle Edwards says:

"Coaches can talk all they want to. It's the players. If Duke has a better team than we do, they have a good chance of beating us."

Big, Tough and Unbeaten

State's Asst. Coach Bill Small summed up the Blue Devils terse-ly: "Big, tough and undefeated."

The game, which conceivably could decide the ACC championship, will be televised over the ACC network of 20 stations ranging from Baltimore to Miami.

One of the traditional battles of the conference takes place at Columbia, S. C., at mid-week when South Carolina and Clemson tangle in their annual Big Thursday game.

Both teams, idle last weekend in preparation for the game, worked hard yesterday. Clemson Coach Frank Howard held a long and fast dummy scrimmage during which the Tigers reviewed their plays and looked at South Carolina-type passing. South Carolina Coach Warren Giese staged a rough defensive drill against Clemson plays run by freshmen and reserves.

Temps Test Tennessee

"When we do get a victory it's going to be mighty sweet," said Wake Forest Coach Paul Amen, preparing the Demon Deacons for a game with North Carolina Saturday. The Deacons have lost four straight.

Pigeon Grounded As Lynch Scores

NEW YORK (AP)—It was only a half happy night for Eddie Lynch's West Side followers: The welterweight prospect from New York's dock area won his 12th fight in 14 by outpointing Montreal's Yvon Turcotte but no pigeons flew in St. Nicholas Arena.

Lynch's loyal and vocal fans in the crowd of 1,117 for the telecast fight were on their best behavior. After all there were six ASPCA agents, a police sergeant, and four cops in the small club, and two police patrol cars outside.

No no pigeons were released and no rotten eggs were thrown as happened on Aug. 5 when Lynch lost a close split decision to Danny Russo of Brooklyn.

A couple of fans were arrested that hectic evening for "cruelty" to the pigeons but the case was thrown out of court.

Ever since Eddie, an ex-pigeon fancier himself, turned pro three years ago, his admirers from Hell's Kitchen have been flying the birds and firing torpedoes when ever he fought at ancient St. Nick's.

Six Richmond players were out with flu and tackle Fred Caravatta will miss the Rutgers game Saturday because he is hospitalized with pneumonia.

Two flu victims, fullback Tudor Hall and tackle Joe Cambria, returned to action at Washington & Lee, but end Jim Pickett, guard Fred Icina and halfback Al Gitter probably will miss Saturday's Wittenberg game.

Blind Juror Does Not Shirk His Duty

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Jack Benner, 42, blinded by shrapnel on a French battlefield on Independence Day, 1914, was picked to serve on the September term of the Scioto County grand jury.

Although he could have been excused because of his disability, Benner said, "Some people think blind people can't do anything. I wanted to show them we can when he have a chance."

Paul Maguire Star of Week

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Citadel's Paul Maguire, a sophomore end who tied the league record for pass receptions in one game today was named Southern Conference football player of the week for an outstanding offensive defensive job against Richmond.

Getting top honors is nothing new for Maguire, a strong 5-11, 185-pounder from Youngstown, Ohio. Last year he was voted Southern Conference freshman of the year.

Maguire caught seven passes for 131 yards and scored two touchdowns as The Citadel ripped the Spiders 26-0. The talented end tied the SC record for receptions set by William & Mary's Larry Fones in 1954 and equaled by the Tribe's Larry Peccatiello last year. Maguire's 131 yards was only seven yards shy of the league mark in that department.

Maguire's closest competition came from two quarterbacks—his teammate, Bobby Schwarze, and West Virginia's Dick Longfellow.

Hot Stove League Meets Tomorrow

A meeting of the Hot Stove Baseball League will be held tomorrow, 7:30 p. m., at City Hall, president Earl Nonnenmann announced today.

Nonnenmann said service club sponsors should be represented at the confab, along with officers and team managers. A nominating committee will be appointed. Officers for 1958 will be elected at a December meeting.

Membership cards for 1957 also must be turned in tomorrow.

CARIBBEAN TOUR

DUNEDIN, Fla. (NEA)—The Professional Golfers Association will co-sponsor four tournaments on the Caribbean circuit this winter, starting with the Jamaica Open, Feb. 2-5.

Maryland emphasized fundamentals in its workout.

Two ACC teams entertain outside foes this week: Virginia host to Army and Maryland host to Tennessee.

Coach Tommy Mont held a sweat-suit workout for the Maryland Terps yesterday, spending most of the time setting defenses.

Opening lead—♥ Q

"I opened the queen of hearts, South won with his king and knocked out my ace of diamonds. I played a second heart and dummy won with the ace. Out came a low club and my partner hopped up with the ace. Naturally I signaled with the nine and my partner played his three of clubs. "Declarer ruffed and ran out all his trumps. Prior to the last trump lead I held the ten of hearts, jack-five of spades and king of clubs. Dummy held the seven of hearts, king-nine of spades and queen of clubs. My partner held the three spades and the nine of hearts. "On the last trump lead I was in a squeeze and discarded my five of spades in the vain hope that my partner would hold queen-ten-small. Now South went over to dummy's king and finessed the ten to make his contract. "If I had discarded the ten of hearts dummy's seven spot would have forced my partner to unguard his spades so I was dead whatever I did. "Well," I said, "I don't see any

They'll Do It Every Time

KEESTER... ARE THEY FEEDING YOU ANY BETTER? HMM... WHAT'S THIS SUPPOSED TO BE... CHOW MEIN? IT'S GOT NO TASTE TO IT... WHATEVER... WHAT'S THIS... SQUASH? TOO SOGGY... YOU'D THINK THEY'D GET SOMEBODY WHO KNEW HOW TO COOK... WHERE'S THE DESSERT?

By Jimmy Hatlo

THERE'LL BE NOTHING LEFT FOR HIM WHEN HIS MISSUS GETS THROUGH SAMPLING THAT FREE LUNCH... SHE'S A REAL AUTHORITY ON COOKING... HE'S IN HERE ON ACCOUNT OF HE SWALLOWED A HUNK OF TIN FROM A CAN OF BEANS... HE COULDA BEEN OUT HERE DAYS AGO BUT HE ASKED THE DOC NOT TO SEND HIM HOME TO HIS OWN BED AND SMORGASBORD!

WATCHING THE FOOD EXPERT SAMPLE HER RECOVERING PAPA OUT OF HIS DINNER... THANKS AND A LOT OF LOVE FROM THE YOUNGERS, N.Y.

Men's Wear Given Repellent Process

By International News Service
Men's suits, slacks and suede jackets treated with chemical materials that will enable them to repel oil, water, ink and other damaging stains have been placed on the market by a number of clothing manufacturers.

Teachers' Pay

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—The American Society for Engineering Education said today that engineering teachers in United States colleges and universities earned an average salary of $5,634. This amount is brought to a gross of $8,862 that the damaging stains can not be absorbed by the fibers. These engineering work according to a fluoro-chemically treated slacks study made by the organization.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

For Wednesday, October 23, 1957

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Outstandingly good days in some departments. Sound, solid matters and work requiring strength and endurance especially favored. An intelligent attitude can take you far, your extra care suggested in personal affairs.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—Good influences. Use them purposefully and objectively, and do be careful to avoid extremes and extravagance. Seek competent advice where needed.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—A splendid setup for you now, with your Mercury, the Sun and Saturn in benefic aspects. The mind, however, of self-motives, do be sure they are a time to show your truly fine qualities.

JUNE 22 to JULY 21 (Cancer)—Your Moon suggests that you be circumspect. Don't be petty and don't give too much thought to yourself. Put your fine generous nature to use in the service of others. Most good endeavors favored.

JULY 22 to AUGUST 21 (Leo)—The Sun is in splendid aspect and, together with other encouraging vibrations, should stimulate, encourage you to achieve much now. Avoid any damaging tendencies; be cooperative and you will win more.

AUGUST 22 to SEPTEMBER 21 (Virgo)—Especially favored now, study, research, investigation, new discoveries, advancement in science, art, nuclear experiments.

SEPTEMBER 22 to OCTOBER 21 (Libra)—While the rays are not wholly auspicious for private matters, benefic influences from the Sun and Saturn
